The usual Friday night shopping hour also will be observed tonight by stores in the Corte Madera Center and San Anselmo, where merchants claim bargains are an everyday affair.

ONLY RUBBLE REMAINS

A span of the Greenbrae overpass on Highway 101 collapsed into this pile of rubble yesterday just three minutes after workmen had completed pouring of the concrete slab. The temporary timbers holding up the framework let go with a crunching sound—and down came the newly poured concrete.

McCarthy Asks Probe Of Overpass Collapse

Portion Of Greenbrae Span Falls Minutes After Workers Leave Job

Construction crews today started clean-up of the wreckage of a ponderous 80-foot span of the partially constructed Corte Madera Creek crossing on Highway 101 at Greenbrae.

The massive 50-foot wide and six-foot thick sandwich of steel, wood and cement collapsed yesterday at 4:33 p.m., only minutes after the 20-man cement crew left work for the day.

James Andrade, project manager for the Dan Caputo Co. of San Jose, the contractor, said today it seemed certain no one had been trapped in the collapse. He said it had been impossible to make an exact head-count this morning because many men failed to show up for work and others announced they were quitting.

TRAFFIC JAM

Damage was estimated at more than $40,000. Northbound motorists slowing to look at the scene caused a traffic jam on adjacent Highway 101 that extended past the Corte Madera interchange.

Cause of the failure of the extensive wood underpinnings was still unknown today.

Lawrence Cox of Brentwood, equipment operator, said he walked under that portion of the new bridge a minute or so before the fall to pick up a water can and power saw.

He had barely emerged when he heard crackling sounds. He stood transfixed under the completed southbound span while the newly poured section settled to earth "like a pancake."

He estimated that the cracking of the bents of 8-by-8 timbers went on for about 30 seconds before the final crash. He said he saw no one under the span while the crunching was going on.

NORTH CROSSING

The new span is part of the $1,800,000 northbound crossing of the creek planned for completion in October.

Construction men said the fallen span consisted of a 67-foot strip of roadway which terminated on the north end about 13 feet from a 35-foot cement pier. The gap was spanned with seven ton (1½) "I" beams plus the wooden falsework which supported the Failure of a wooden falsework engineered by the contractor drew blame today for collapse of a span of the Greenbrae Overpass on Highway 101, as Marin's Sen. John F. McCarthy in Sacramento demanded an immediate investigation of the near-disaster.

Officials of the state Division of Highways and James Andrade, project manager for Dan Caputo Co. of San Jose, the contractor, said the falsework was designed in the firm's head office.

But McCarthy declared the state Department of Public Works should make an immediate investigation "to find out why this happened with their inspectors on the scene."

The Marin senator asserted everyone associated with the job should be thoroughly investigated.

All the management of the Caputo firm was reported at the scene today, investigating the cause of the failure and what must be done to get the $1,800,000 bridge project under way again.

Investigation by the Division of Highways was being handled by P. C. Walters of Santa Venetia, resident engineer on the project, and his superior, Donald R. Higgins, bridge construction engineer for the Division of Highways' District 4 office in San Francisco.

L. A. Weymouth, the division's district engineer—who had not yet appeared at the scene this noon—said the overpass itself was designed by the state Bridge Department in Sacramento and issued under the signature of George McCoy, state highway engineer. He said he did not know who did the actual design work.

He said the designs for the wooden falsework holding up

Dalai Lama Given Asylum In India

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—India told Communist China and the world today that the 25-year-old Dalai Lama has crossed safely into India from revolt-torn Tibet and has been granted diplomatic asylum.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru electrified Parliament with the announcement. The deputies cheered wildly.

Nehru said the Tibetan godking, the quarry of an intense hunt by Communist Chinese troops in Tibet, reached the Tibetan border last Tuesday night with 80 followers.

He said an advance scout had given notice March 29 that the Dalai Lama was coming and would seek diplomatic asylum.

The young spiritual and temporal ruler of three million Tibetans crossed the border near the Towang subdivision of the Kameng frontier division in India's Assam state, Nehru said.

"When he crossed over into our territory he was received by our assistant political officer of the Towang subdivision," Nehru said.

"The total number who have come with him or after him is 80," Nehru said. "Yesterday we learned that this party in two groups is moving towards Towang, which is the headquarters of that subdivision, and that he is expected to reach Towang today."

TOUGH TRIP

Although Towang is less than 20 miles from the border as the crow flies, the actual trip was much longer because it involved traveling over some of the roughest country in the world.

The escape, one of the most dramatic of modern times, was sure to deal a heavy blow at Communist Chinese prestige, particularly in Asia. Up to the start of the anti-Communist rebellion in Tibet last month, and the Communist attempts to crush it, India had gone to great pains not to offend its huge Chinese neighbor in any way.

NEW RESISTANCE

It was generally believed news of the Dalai Lama's escape would set off new and greater resistance to the Communists in Tibet.

Reports received at the Indian border town of Kalimpong said the Chinese Communists had launched a heavy artillery offensive in southeast Tibet.

Trucking Exec Offense Held Only Technical

Edward W. Elliott, Belvedere trucking executive, was found guilty of "only a technical violation" and fined $100 in San Francisco Municipal Court yesterday for running a COD freight business without posting a bond.

Sentence was pased by Judge Lenore Underwood, who held that an East Bay truck financing firm, G.I.F., Inc., actually is responsible for COD payments owed by Elliott's Inter-City Fast Freight Co.

Proof of this, she said, was offered by Elliott's attorney, who produced a copy of a statement G.I.F. executives filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission guaranteeing to meet Inter-City's obligations.

Judge Underwood ordered Inter-City to pay $2,287 in COD charges for the period in which it operated without a bond for 33 days last fall. Her ruling indicated another $10,000 owed shippers who sent goods via Inter-City must be considered an obligation of the G.I.F. firm.

Throttle Jams, Car Runs Into Phone Booth

It may have looked like it, but Mrs. Jean B. Rowe of Corte Madera wasn't trying to see how many cars could be stacked in a public telephone booth yesterday.

Mrs. Rowe, 44, of 350 Chapman drive, was driving north from the Corte Madera interchange at 9:50 a.m. when the throttle of her car suddenly jammed wide open.

Frightened, she applied the brakes, but the car would not stop. Mrs. Rowe told Highway Patrol officers she had no choice but to swing toward the east frontage road paralleling Highway 101.

The car knocked down 15 feet of steel fencing, tore out 20 feet of retaining wall at a Flying A service station and came to a halt with its front end in the station's outdoor phone booth.

The throttle still was wide open when highway patrolmen reached the scene. They said it was jammed by a loose linkage on the side of the carburetor.

Mrs. Rowe escaped injury.

2 Fliers Escape Death In Hamilton Jet Crash

Two Hamilton Air Force Base officers escaped death yesterday when a T33 jet trainer in which they were taking off lost power as it left the runway, rocketed through a barrier cable and slid to a halt in a nearby field.

One was injured. Lt. Jerry Prather, 28, a pilot in Hamilton's 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, suffered a chipped vertebra, and was admitted to the base hospital for observation and treatment.

Lieutenant Prather, who lives at 721 Cherry street, Novato, was a passenger in the rear cockpit. The pilot John D. Owens, 29, of 729 Bradley aveuue, Novato, an 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron member, was unhurt.

Officials at the base said the jet was just leaving the ground, about 5,000 feet along the runway at 1:10 p.m. when it lost part of its power.

Without power to get the seven and one-half ton plane into the air, Lieutenant Owens nosed back down onto the runway, braking from an estimated 135 miles an hour to about 115 miles an hour before the craft hit the heavy barrier cable which, by catching the plane's landing gear, is intended to halt runaway jets.

The cable slowed the plane, but slipped away from the landing gear, and the plane raced on, going about 1,500 feet past the end of the 8,500-foot runway, over a drainage ditch and a fence before it slid to a stop.

The craft did not flip over, but slid smoothly along its course. The plane was extensively damaged, but did not catch fire.

Loyalton Again Jolted By Quake

LOYALTON (AP)—A light rolling earthquake today rattled this small Sierra County community which was hit two days ago with a solid jolt that damaged almost every building in town.

Senate Approves 2 McCarthy Bills

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two bills dealing with prison violence were en route to the Assembly today after receiving Senate approval.

The bills, authored by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), would do away with the mandatory death penalty for a lifer who commits an assault with a deadly weapon upon another prisoner, and would specify a one-year sentence for a prisoner other than a lifer who commits such an assault.

Lifers who commit such assaults could receive the death penalty or life imprisonment without possibility of parole for nine years.

Mercury Hits 80s Again Through Marin

Marin County residents sweltered again yesterday as the heat rose to 86 degrees in San Rafael and almost as high elsewhere.

The high reading, taken on Marin County Savings and Loan Assn.'s thermometer, equalled that of Wednesday, which was a record for this year in San Rafael.

In San Anselmo and Novato the mercury reached 85 and 83 degrees, respectively. Each was one degree short of the year's high. San Anselmo's temperature was up five degrees over the previous day.

Mill Valley was one degree cooler than Wednesday with an 82 top.

A 30-day Weather Bureau outlook released in Washington predicted that the Bay Area will be part of America's "hot belt" this month, with anticipated temperatures much above seasonal normals.

Loma Verde Cemetery Request Withdrawn

Loma Verde residents were assured last night that there will be no memorial park-cemetery on the hills near their homes.

Paul Trousdale, Loma Verde developer who had proposed development of the memorial park on 200 acres south of Loma Verde, told a group of Loma Verde home owners he is permanently withdrawing his application for a use permit for the development.

The application had stirred up strong opposition among Loma Verde residents, and was withdrawn from consideration by the county planning commission several weeks ago. However, until last night's assurances that the withdrawel is to be permanent, residents had feared it would be refiled in the future.

Trousdale indicated that, while he has given up on the idea of a memorial park near Loma Verde, he has not abandoned the idea of locating one somewhere in Marin. He mentioned no specific site which he may now have in mind.

Trousdale's remarks were made at a meeting with members of the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn. and other interested residents of the area in the clubhouse of Marin Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Duncan Gets Death Sentence

VENTURA (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, a jealous mother who didn't want her son to get married, was sentenced today to death in the gas chamber for hiring two men to strangle his pregnant bride.

Mrs. Duncan, 54, showed no emotion as she stood to hear the judge's sentence.

Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock pronounced the sentence after turning down defense requests for a new trial and for a reduction of the penalty to life imprisonment.

NATO COUNCIL MEETS — This was the scene as delegates to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council posed in a conference room of the Interdepartmental Auditorium in Washington before beginning their closed meeting. NATO Endorses Effort To Seek Agreement With Russ On Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The NATO council wound up its discussion of Berlin and Germany today with an endorsement of Western Big Four efforts to seek an honorable settlement with Russia.

The foreign ministers and other top representatives of the 15-nation council were reported after a closed session to be unanimous in approving the decisions of Britain, France, the United States and West Germany to stand firm in Berlin and make no deal which would smack of appeasement.

The council planned to turn this afternoon to consideration of Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak's report and matters other than the Berlin and German problems.

Suggestions advanced by representatives of the other Western powers at this morning's meeting will be sent along for consideration by a four-power allied working group. The group meets April 13 in London to try to hammer out the final bargaining position which Britain, France and the United States will take into the Geneva foreign ministers meeting with Russia scheduled to begin May 11.

German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano, the first speaker at this morning's session, began by denying there were any basic differences between his country and the Western Big Three on how to approach a solution of the Berlin and German problems.

Brentano, according to a NATO spokesman, described as "inaccurate and much exaggerated" reports that his country has protested against what it considers willingness of Britain particularly to make unwise concessions to Russia in an effort to settle the German problem.

Among suggestions advanced at this morning's session, which will be sent to the four-power working group in London, was one by Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella. He proposed a commission of West Germans and Communist East Germans to work out closer economic and cultural contacts as a first step toward eventual unification of Germany.

Pella also endorsed the idea of seeking Russian agreement for limitation of troops and weapons in a European zone along both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Pella said any such troops and weapons limitation must be accompanied by a control and inspection system to make certain that the Communists did not welsh on the agreement.

British Paper In Blast At U. S. Generals

LONDON (AP)—Britain's largest daily newspaper—the tabloid Daily Mirror—today devoted its entire front page to an attack on what it termed "meddling American generals."

Alongside an editorial, the pro-Laborite paper carried a photograph of U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO's top commander, labeled: "A threat to the hopes of world peace."

NEW MENACE

The editorial said there was a new menace to world peace —"the loudmouthed American generals."

"They appear totally unconcerned at efforts by the statesmen—Mr. Macmillan, Mr. Khrushchev, President Eisenhower—to settle the future of the world round the conference table."

The newspaper's ire was roused by Norstad's rejection of so-called disengagement in Europe during a British television interview, and by recent testimony before a U.S. congressional committee by Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. Thomas E. White, U.S. Air Force chief of staff, about the readiness of rocket bases in Britain.

CONDEMNS FLIGHT

The Mirror also condemned the flight last week of a U.S. plane to Berlin above 10,000 feet altitude, an action which has drawn Soviet protests.

The name of the U.S. general who ordered the flight has not been disclosed, the paper said, "but irresponsibility — or lunacy—of his action is apparent to all."

The Mirror's outburst was one of several recent indications of apparent British irritation with public pronouncements by some U.S. military leaders.

Doctors Told To Take Social Responsibility

State Medical Assn. President Speaks To Marin Society

Doctors, who have "not understood and felt apart from" the economic and social revolutions going on around them, need to "get out in front and have a positive approach to problems."

That was the advice last night of Dr. T. Eric Reynolds of Alameda, president of the California Medical Assn., to the Marin County Medical Society. The society was holding its monthly meeting in the Meadow Club, Fairfax, jointly with its auxiliary.

Dr. Reynolds said doctors have "abdicated their responsibilities as citizens" in the rush of their daily practice.

HARD TO COMMUNICATE

In a medical world being "fragmented by specialization," it is often hard for even doctors to communicate with each other. Therefore it's important, he said, that the "few" who deviate from the ethics of the profession and "bring discredit to all concerned" be subject to "discipline with teeth in it." Such discipline should be at the county level to be effective "or medicine will be faced with over-all accusations which don't apply to 98 per cent."

Medicine has become more expensive, he went on, not because cost of individual treatments has increased so much but because there are "so many more and better services."

CONSIDERED RIGHT

In addition, the "concept of medical care has become almost a religion, a religion which the public is willing to be spoon-fed. It is now considered one of the basic human rights to have proper medical care and treatment."

In one such field the CMA is about ready to launch a prepaid medical plan of its own, in addition to the Blue Shield program already in operation. In about a month, Dr. Reyonlds said, the association's insurance program for the old age group will be announced.

Under the plan, persons 65 or older may acquire medical insurance at a minimum rate, but it would have wider coverage than the usual in-hospital coverage. The program would provide medical coverage for house, hospital or rest home calls and office visits.

LOW COSTS

Each hospital or office visit would cost the oldster only $1, but a rest home or residence call by a doctor would cost $2. The insurance would cover the other charges.

This would include all medical charges, the CMA head said, but "since the doctors have no control over the hospitals or drugs, these will not be included."

Also presented to the Marin society was Bob Marvin, new associate director of public relations for the California Medical Assn.

Dr. Rolla Hess, society president, presided at the meeting. Dr. Dallas Wagner was program chairman and Dr. Warren Bostick introduced the speakers.

Library Budget Meet

Trustees of the Mill Valley Library Board last night set for April 16 at 8 p.m. a special budget meeting at the library.

BRIDGE WRECK SEARCHED FOR VICTIMS — Deputy Sheriff George Barnes, who was in the area and heard the sound of the collapsing Greenbrae overpass section, assists workmen probing through wreckage for anyone possibly trapped underneath. Study Of West Marin School Merger Slated

A study to determine the feasibility and desirability of unifying school districts in West Marin will be undertaken by the County Committee on School District Organization.

The committee voted to launch the study last night at the end of a three-hour public hearing at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station.

The action called for a study of Marin's "west coast area," but the Lagunitas and Nicasio School Districts, both inland, would be included. Other districts to be covered by the survey are Bolinas, Marshall, Pt. Reyes, Stinson Beach, Tomales High School District and West Marin and Tomales elementary districts.

The county school superintendent's office also was instructed to accomplish any necessary coordination with Sonoma County school districts.

Tomales Joint Union High School District includes some Sonoma County elementary districts.

Resolutions asking the county committee to study the possibility of West Marin school district unification were passed recently by the West Marin and Stinson Beach school boards.

A show of hands at last night's meeting indicated that of the nine districts involved, only the Bolinas and Nicasio districts were not represented. Some 50 persons attended, and between 30 and 40 expressed approval of a unification study by another show of hands. When the audience was asked if any opposed it, no hand was raised.

A majority of those present expressed opposition to a study of countywide school district unification, which has been proposed by Mrs. Vera Woodworth of Homestead, reported Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

No date was set last night for the first West Marin study meeting. The county superintendent's office first must assemble data for the committee, augmented by representatives of the nine districts, to consider.

Committee members stressed that there is no preconceived plan for West Marin school district unification. Whatever recommendations emerge from the forthcoming study, they said, will reflect the ideas of persons in the affected area.

Asked if Tomales High School would be eliminated by unification, the committee said it is impossible to say at this time.

A unified district operates both the high schools and elementary schools within a given geographic area. The district encompasses the same territory as the elementary school districts which go out of existence with unification, the audience was told.

length of the span. The falsework was supported on piles driven into the mud.

Men at the scene said the first pour on the span was made two weeks ago. Wednesday and yesterday, the cement men swarmed over the span pouring the final six-inch top deck.

David McClelland of Corte Madera, an oiler, estimated that about 200 cubic yards of cement had been poured into the span before the fall.

Walters said it appeared the contractor will have to break off the stub of the span extending beyond the south pier and make a new joint at that point. The rest of the structure appeared to be undamaged.

Cleanup of the "blob" is expected to take two or three weeks. The work is not expected to delay the October opening of the overpass.

Car, Bike Collide; Boy, 16, Bruised

A 16-year-old Drake High School student suffered minor bruises yesterday afternoon when he and his bicycle collided with a car in San Rafael.

Donald Joseph Waldbillig of 20 Inman avenue, Kentfield, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital. The driver of the car, Mildred Zuliem Lewis, 55, of 231 Laurel place, San Rafael, was not cited. Police said she was turning left from Fourth street onto B street when the collision occurred. The youth was headed west on Fourth on his bicycle.

PONY EXPRESS CENTENNIAL FETE PLANNED

Ninety-nine years ago today, the Pony Express began its first run between St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento.

Already, plans for nationwide celebration of the Pony Express Centennial next year are well advanced, with Col. F. Waddell Smith of San Rafael laying a key role.

Smpith, who just returned home from a trip over the route taken by the famed Pony Express, said a California Pony Express Centennial Assn. has been formed with himself as president, Gov. Edmund G. Brown as board chairman and John Rosekrans of San Francisco, president of the Society of California Pioneers, as vice president.

The California organization will cooperate with the national Pony Express Centennial Assn., also headed by Smith, in planning next year's observance in the Golden State.

the span during construction had to be approved "up to certain limitations" by the resident engineer.

POSSIBLE CAUSES

Walters said yesterday he had no firm idea as to what caused the collapse. He theorized it might have resulted from agitation of the soft earth by nearby excavation or settling of the pilings on which the falsework was built.

Weymouth said he had received no report today on what might have caused the collapse.

The Division of Highways estimated damage at about $40,000.

Yesterday's collapse was the second spectacular accident during construction of the $1,800,000 Greenbrae interchange project, which includes the northbound overpass and an access bridge to the east.

In July, 1956, during construction of the first bridge for the interchange, a crane lifting a cement bucket toppled, injuring one workman.

U. S. Grants Reed School Planning Fund

The federal Community Facilities Administration announced in Washington today a $10,200 advance for preliminary planning work on a new school in Reed Union School District, the Associated Press reported from Washington.

Supt. Paul R. Stouffer of Reed district said the money is to be used for pre-planning studies for a building on the Del Mar Estates site owned by the district. He said architectural and engineering studies will be included. A 14-to-16 classroom school is planned, with possibly a separate administration building.

The money is repayable to the federal agency on the start of construction, expected late next year.

Charles Hawthorne Dies In Calistoga

Funeral services for Charles M. Hawthorne, former Ross resident, will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at N. Gray and Co., San Francisco, under auspices of King Solomon Lodge 260, Free and Accepted Masons.

Hawthorne, 72, died Tuesday in a Calistoga hospital, where he had been since suffering a stroke six days earlier.

He lived on Norwood avenue in Ross for seven years before leaving Marin County in 1951. With his wife, Jeanette, he moved to the Petrified Forest, which is between Santa Rosa and Calistoga. They operated the Petrified Forest coffee and gift shop.

Hawthorne was a native of San Francisco. He was a former member of Marin County Shrine Club and an active member of the Calistoga Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club, Aahmes Temple of the Shrine, Calistoga Lodge 233 F. and A.M., and King Solomon Lodge 260 F. and A.M.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Fay Angel of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Davida Middlemas of Phoenix, Ariz., and five grandchildren.

Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Helen L. Mawson Of San Rafael Dies

Mrs. Helen L. Mawson, San Rafael homemaker, died last night at the age of 51. She had been in failing health for two years and was hospitalized just over a month ago.

Her home for the past 13 years was at 112 Marina Court drive, where she resided with her husband, Eric, an employee of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco.

The couple met in San Francisco and married in 1931. Mrs. Mawson, who was the former Helen Riffe, came to the Bay Area after completing high school in Missouri. She was employed by Macy's department store in San Rafael, working in the office and selling, until illness forced her to resign.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Mawson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Audrey Kidd, and a sister, Mrs. Sylvia Dearborn, both of San Rafael; and another sister, Mrs. Verna Barker, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Riffe, in Missouri.

Private funeral services will be held under direction of Keaton's Mortuary.

IT'S SAME FIRM, BUT NAME IS CHANGED

Painter Glen Douglas of Drake Ad-Signs, San Anselmo, applies finishing touches to new name sign on San Rafael's "Foreign Car Row." Marin Foreign Cars, Inc., changed its name to Marathon Motors, Inc., because of expansion outside Marin County by opening a branch in Daly City. Marathon Motors will continue to handle Borgward, Porsche, BMW, Goliath and DKW imported autos, said general manager Thomas Kramar.

Food Swindle Suspect Found

MONTREAL (AP)—Police said today they had a definite suspect in a case involving the swindling of food exporters in the United States and western Canada by a man who ordered consignments in the explorers' names in order to collect brokerage fees.

William Fitzpatrick, assistant chief of detectives, said no complaints have been filed against the suspect but his Montreal address is known as "he would be avaialable at any time any police department makes an official request for him."

Detectives are investigating complaints by Safeway Stores, Inc., San Francisco, that a man operating by telephone from Montreal ordered valuable food consignments in Safeway's name. Montreal police said he collected broker's fees, but never picked up the shipments when they arrived.

Safeway has no branch here.

Ralph D. Brown, Safeway vice president, said incidents reported to the store since last October indicate losses for manufacturers and processors run to thousands of dollars.

Among shipments were 20,000 pounds of canned tuna shipped by South Coast Fisheries of Terminal Island, Los Angeles, and a carload of albacore tuna from a Seattle cannery.

Tire Thief Sentenced To 4 Months In Jail

Robert Vernon Treacy, 21, of 2450 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, must serve the next four months in jail and remain on probation for a year for stealing tires and auto accessories.

Treacy and three others were arrested in January for thefts in San Anselmo and San Rafael. Two were previously sentenced. The case against Gary Edward Mellon, 21, of San Rafael, is still pending in Marin Municipal Court.

Senate Group Passes Water Finance Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plan to freeze the state's 17-million-dollar investment fund for water development was given unanimous approval today by the Senate Water Resources Committee.

The measure by Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (D-Los Gatos), a key point in the administration's water program, would also set aside most future tidelands oil revenue for water use.

Allen said the amount would vary from 20 million dollars annually to "hundreds of millions."

Several legislators have sought to use the investment fund, built up from tidelands income, to balance the budget instead of new and higher taxes, as proposed by Brown.

"Passage of the bill," Allen told the northern-dominated committee, "will at least give us cash in the bank to start water development.

Meeting Canceled

A postponed meeting of the Bolinas Harbor District board set for last night was canceled due to the absence of chairman Gene McDaniel.

Variety Store Undergoing Expansion In San Anselmo

The San Anselmo Variety Store of Mayor Arthur W. Smith is in the process of expanding. Instead of three doors facing the city hall, his expanded store will have four doors.

The space formerly occupied by Dr. Bernard H. Faibish and Dr. Harold A. Druhan, optometrists, is being taken over by Smith's store. The two optometrists have moved one office to the north, replacing a gift shop which went out of business.

Remodeling of the vacated space and knocking out of walls is being underwritten by Roderick P. and Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., brothers and co-owners of the building.

Bail Bondsman Shelly Denies Seeking Favors

San Anselmo bail bondsman James Joseph Shelley denied yesterday he had ever tried to influence jailers by money or gifts.

His reply was prepared by attorney T. G. Fitzgerald of San Rafael and sent to the state Department of Insurance in San Francisco.

Shelley, brother of San Francisco Congressman John F. Shelley, held that only on two occasions did he offer anything, and neither was an attempt to influence.

Once last year, Sgt. Guy Gibbs helped him re-arrest a dangerous bail jumper, recalled Shelley. The bondsman said he was so grateful he gave Gibbs one dollar, apologized for the smallness of the token, and suggested the deputy buy himself a drink.

On Christmas Eve, 1957, he went to the county jail and offered a pint of liquor to Deputy Ernest Nielsen, said Shelley. He says that the "spirit of Christmas was strong within him on that occasion," and he had no other motivation whatsoever.

In neither instance did he intend to influence the jailer in any way, Shelley declared.

The bail bondsman emphatically denies all other accusations made by the insurance commissioner.

In October, 1957, Shelley says, he was called to jail to bail out only 7 per cent of the prisoners, whereas his sole competitor at the time (James V. Stragnola) bailed out 93 per cent. To find out what was causing this situation, Shelley says, he called Deputy Sheriff Fred Hooper who told him, "You've been around, Jim — you have got to sweeten it up for those deputies." Shelley alleges Hooper then advised him to come to the Marin City substation if he was curious about the identity of those "deputies" or the word "sweeten."

The only reason he went to see Hooper, Shelley alleges, "was to ascertain the nature of the practice that prevented him from successfully engaging in the bail bond business, while his competitor flourished."

The insurance commissioner charges Shelley tried to put some money in the pocket of Jailer Frank Christ, tried to give John J. Gallagher $5, and presented books to William McKillop with five $10 bills within their pages.

Shelley denies each of these charges.

Cold War Tension Unlikely To Ease With Khrushchev In Soviet Saddle

(Last in a series on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A Communist Party hack named Z. T. Serdyuk from Moldavia droned on and on, saying just what was expected of him.

Nikita Khrushchev, tireless talker and dogged listener, hung on every word.

"In view of the ultimate triumph of our party's general line," intoned Serdyuk, "we have all the more evidence of the political bankruptcy of the anti-party group of Malenkov, Kaganovich, Molotov, Bulganin and Shepilov."

Frowning, Whrushchev interruped. "Shepilov who joined them," he corrected.

It happened last December at a party session when Khrushchev was establishing himself finally as boss. The Moldavian momentarily had strayed from the formula.

When Khrushchev "took the black sheep by the tail," as he put it, and threw them out in mid-1957, a new cliche was born. The big boys who opposed Khrushchev were to be regarded as guilty as sin. Former Foreign Minister Shepilov was not quite so guilty.

This was the Khrushchev mind at work, as dogmatic as Stalin's, conditioned by a lifetime of expressing himself in pre-fabricated phrases. Such incidents throw light on the personality of the man who would face Western statesmen in any summit conference.

Khrushchev's life story shows him clearly to be the prisoner of a rigid, uncompromising doctrine. Khrushchev learned from Lenin, for example, there are two kinds of war—the just and the unjust. The just war defends or advances communism.

There are two ways to expand influence in the world. Whatever the West does, even through economic aid programs, is colonialism. Whatever the U.S.S.R. does is in support of liberation.

When Khrushchev applies the double standard, one for the U.S.S.R. and one for the West, it is useless to look for logic as Westerners know it. There is only one logic for Khrushchev: The inevitable triumph of communism. Does the Kremlin act in good faith? There is only one faith: Communism.

Like Lenin and Stalin, Khrushchev has made himself sole arbiter of what is good for the cause of communism at home and abroad. Those who disagreed with him became anti-party wreckers.

By these standards, Stalin was right when he resisted Trotsky's impatient demand to regiment farmers. And he was right when he himself brutally accomplished the same thing. Khrushchev was right when he denounced Stalin and encouraged cautious relaxations. He was just as right when he reestablished Stalin as a hero and cracked down on the same relaxations, blaming others for costly experiments.

For Khrushchev, the relaxations brought about a situation in Hungary which he found "hot as paprika." They brought restiveness among Soviet youth, riots in Poland, even trouble in China. They required him to fix the blame elsewhere, and thus the renewal of the Kremlin feud with Tito of Yugoslavia.

Now Khrushchev once again is a Stalinist. Still feeling he needs to make promises to the public, he warns that abundance must not be expected too soon. Like Stalin, Khrushchev wants world power first.

He leaves no doubt how he wants to use that power.

"Whether they like it or not," he once blurted out, "the capitalists must die. We'll contribute what we can."

Does all this mean many years of ceaseless cold war? That may depend upon how long Khrushchev lasts at his dizzy height.

Communists know the job of being a Red nation's party boss is gigantic.

Khrushchev will be 65 in two weeks. Doctors have warned him to ease up on liquor and watch his diet.

He lives in luxury in Moscow, clucked over by his stout, motherly wife, admired by his grandchildren. If Khrushchev has a soft side, it is his devotion to his daughter, wife of a Moscow editor, and his son Sergi, an electrical engineer.

When the pace gets rough, Khrushchev rests at a 30-room villa, showplace of a Black Sea resort.

So Khrushchev may live for years. But his generation of militant Bolshevik veterans is dying out. Khrushchev has neither the power nor the personality to be a Stalin. Opposition is easily detectable. Still, Khrushchev seems intent upon producing a robot population. He is revising Marxism and creating new dogma to prepare the country for his version of communism.

He may be miscalculating.

The new Soviet generation is not the frightened mass Stalin dominated. Social development, a sense of pride in industrial and scientific achievement, a hint of apology for the backward state of the consumer economy, all are pressures on Khrushchev.

More than anything else, educated Soviets, feeling themselves on the verge of an era of unlimited promise, fear the specter of war. This, too, must affect Khrushchev's drive to impose communism elsewhere.

With Khrushchev as top man, there may be little relaxation of the tensions communism uses to advance its doctrine. Time can change that, and when the West negotiates, it buys time.

Some day the Soviet people may have an abundance of food, clothing, housing and security. Some day the Soviet population may be mature enough to force its leaders to abandon the goal of world domination. If that time comes, the world can hope for lasting peace.

But it's unlikely Nikita Khrushchev will live to see the day.

Council To Get Report On Police

San Anselmo's five city councilmen will receive reports this weekend on the police department investigation completed by Police Chief Donald T. Wood and City Manager Arthur W. Brewer.

Brewer said yesterday the report was in the "typing up" stage and should be sent out by the end of the week. The city council has an adjourned meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the city hall.

Mayor Arthur W. Smith said that when the report was received the council would be in a position to decide what action should be taken.

Bill Would Extend Tax Exemption Filings

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to cut the time veterans have to file for veterans property tax exemptions was in the Assembly today after receiving Senate approval.

The bill was authored by Sen. A. S. Rodda (D-Sacramento) and would cut the time for filing by one month, setting it from the first Monday in March until the first Monday in May.

Rodda said the change would enable county officials to bring their tax roles into shape quicker.

Fires Infrequent

MILWAUKEE, (AP) — Big forest fires have become so infrequent in the upper Midwest that fire-fighters in nine north central states have been urged to make quick trips to a big blaze if one breaks out in a distant place. That's the only way the firemen will gain experience, it was emphasized at the firefighters' meeting.

Soviet Missile Subs Alarm U. S. Experts

By BILL WILKS

BURBANK (UPI)—The chances are "damn good" that a dozen nuclear-armed enemy submarines could sneak close enough to wipe out a major part of this country's industry.

In these blunt words today, top anti-submarine warfare experts describe the threat posed by Russia's ever-growing fleet of submarines.

High Navy spokesmen already are on record with statements that no location in the United States is more than 1,500 miles from submarineable waters — mere intermediate range for today's missiles.

Capt. G. W. Okerson of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics pointed out that when World War II started, Germany had only 45 U-boats ready for operations against Great Britain. Today, Russia has 10 times that number of subs in operation, Okerson said.

This grim estimate came out of a briefing by a group of scientists and military men connected with the Lockheed Anti-submarine Warfare Systems Organization, or LAWSO.

The group's mission, working closely with the Navy, is to strengthen means of submarine detection—currently the weakest link in America's defense, according to both Navy and civilian experts.

Killing subs is relatively easy with such new weapons as atomic depth charges, the experts agree. The problem is in finding them, a task some men compare to that of finding a gnat in the Grand Canyon.

Why is a sub so hard to find?

For one thing, radio waves will not travel in water. This rules out radar for spotting subs under water, although it can be used to hunt them above the surface.

Temperature variations in the ocean create invisible barriers of cold or warm water which divert the sub-hunters' underwater sound waves and enable enemy submarines to hide.

Fish and plankton, tiny creatures which float in layers at various levels in the ocean, also can reflect sound waves.

The LAWSO group has concluded that detection methods aren't much better today than they were during World War II. That's because submarines have kept abreast of detection progress.

What is urgently needed, the anti-submarine warfare men declared, is a technological breakthrough to permit an aircraft to scan 50 to 75 miles of ocean at a time to a depth of 1,500 feet. Present methods of detection fall so short of this that the Navy has been forced to throw nearly every type of hardware that floats or flies into the detection effort.

The prime detection method is SONAR, located by sound waves bounced from a sub's hull. But SONAR isn't flexible and falls far short of the required range.

No new idea to improve detection is too fantastic for study. Ideas include the possibility of "manned ocean-bottom stations"—probably nuclear-powered subs — to help establish a long-range, underwater burglar alarm system extending hundreds of miles off U. S. coasts.

"In our long-range strategy, we might well be forced into a decision to destroy the submarines at their home source, where they are built," Okerson said.

APPROVES NEVADA DIVORCE — Debbie Reynolds, just off a plane from Europe, told newsmen in Hollywood last night that Eddie Fisher has her permission to get a quick Nevada divorce so he can marry Elizabeth Taylor. "I wish Elizabeth and Eddie happiness," she added. (AP Wirephoto)

DO-IT-YOURSELF LICENSE PLATES COST HIM $50

DETROIT (AP)—Police stopped Robert J. Lewis' panel truck when they noticed the front and rear license plates had different numbers.

They said Lewis, 29, painted 1953 and 1955 plates this year's yellow and green colors and mounted them on the truck.

Lewis said he didn't have the money to buy new plates. He was fined $50 after pleading guilty to a charge of improperly using motor vehicle plates.

Drunken Driving Charge Dropped

Joseph Manuel Cotallo, 20, of 719 Lamont avenue, Novato, will be sentenced next Friday for drunkenness and resisting arrest at a drive-in cafe one month ago.

A drunken driving charge originally filed against him was dropped yesterday because of insufficient evidence. Deputy Sheriff Charles Newman heard a crash on Mirabella avenue but did not actually see who was driving. When he got to the drive-in, several youths were swarming about.

In the ensuing melee, Cotallo battled the officers and was jailed by force. Cotallo admitted to Judge Richard S. Sims of Marin Municipal Court that he had been drunk and had resisted arrest. Sentencing is set for 3:30 p.m. April 10.

AF Clears Colonel In 'Bumping' Case

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. Air Force today cleared a lieutenant colonel of charges he bumped six homeward-bound enlisted men from a transport plane so he and his family could fly to Hawaii for a vacation.

But an Air Force investigating board said the officer, Lt. Col. Charles Platt Jr. of Brooklyn, N.Y., "by his actions contributed to the confusion" which caused the "administrative error" that was blamed for the bumping.

The Air Force did not say specifically what had happened but implied that subordinates handling the flight became flustered by the presence of Platt—their commanding officer—and dropped the waiting GIs from the passenger list.

As it turned out, the investigators said, there were eight vacant seats on the plane all the time; if the snafu hadn't happened, the servicemen, the colonel and his family all could have gone.

The board said it had turned its findings over to "appropriate commanders to determine whether or not disciplinary action is required."

The six enlisted men were all on emergency leave because of death or illness to close relatives. The plane took off without them from Tachikawa Air Base, just outside Tokyo, on March 26.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of American forces in Japan, personally ordered the aircraft to turn back after one of the outraged servicemen called him and complained that Platt, the passenger terminal commander at Tachikawa, and his vacationing family had taken their seats.

Gets Army Award

Mrs. Catherine M. LeBlanc of 68 Vendola drive, Santa Venetia, an appointment clerk with the Army Corps of Engineers' personnel branch in San Francisco, recently was presented a $25 suggestion award by Col. John S. Harnett, district engineer. Her suggestion was for modernization of the district's telephone directory.

Anti-Cold Vaccine seen Realty Soon

CHICAGO (AP)—An expert today predicted a vaccine that will prevent from 60 to 70 per cent of all common colds probably will be available within the next two years.

Dr. Thomas G. Ward, professor of virology at the University of Notre Dame, said he believes a vaccine can be developed against "an acceptable proportion of the common colds."

He said 75 to 80 per cent of common colds are caused by a group of viruses or a group of bacteria of the streptoccoccus type.

Vaccines develop resistance against viruses.

LIZ IS FLIPPING

Debbie Consents To Quickie Divorce

LAS VEGAS (AP)—An ecstatic Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher today made plans for a private wedding that will take place probably May 11.

"No one will know about it until it's over," the joyful actress told a reporter last night.

"We are both very grateful to Debbie."

She was referring to Debbie Reynolds, Fisher's wife, who announced yesterday she would not oppose Fisher's desire to get a quickie Nevada divorce so that he could marry Miss Taylor.

"I wish Liz and Eddie happiness," Debbie said as she arrived in Los Angeles after a flight from a movie location in Spain.

The news made Liz and Eddie so happy that they literally jumped for joy. A reporter told them of Debbie's statement while the two were at the $500-a-week due ranch that Miss Taylor rents while Fisher performs nearby at the Tropicana Hotel.

"Liz is flipping," said Fisher. "She's jumping all over the room. I'm grateful that Debbie did this."

Then Liz got on the telephone and said: "I'm so happy I almost passed out at the news. I knew all along that Debbie would consent. Just chalk it up to woman's psychology or intuition."

Miss Reynolds, 27-year-old mother of the singer's two children, claimed she was unaware of Fisher's marriage announcement when she arrived here late yesterday.

"This all has caught me by surprise," she said. "I find it very difficult to always be informed second hand and asked questions that are very personal and mean a great deal to my life.

"I am going to grant the consent because of the way the situation was handled," she said.

"My last statement on the subject is that I'm sure you (the press) are as thoroughly exhausted by this subject as I am," Miss Reynolds said. "I wish Elizabeth and Eddie all the happiness. Any question concerning them should be put directly to them, not me."

Fisher needs six weeks to establish Nevada residence. He said he probably will charge incompatibility in his divorce against Debbie.

Debbie got a California decree in February from Fisher but it will not be final for a year. As a result Liz and Eddie cannot live in California as man and wife until February, 1960. Otherwise Fisher would be subject to prosecution for bigamy in that state.

Jailer Recovers From Drunk Juvenile's Kick

Gallagher said he was in Ross General Hospital for 11 days to undergo an operation.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Petite Auberge's Site Just Right; Bob's Selling Plates With Dinner

The tiny brick restaurant at Fourth and Tamalpais in San Rafael has taken on new atmosphere for its opening tonight under the name of La Petite Auberge. This is the site formerly occupied by the Red Fox.

The French translation of La Petite Auberge is Little Inn—to my mind singularly appropriate. I have always thought the building should be known as an inn of some kind. Evidently Paul De Vaux and Pierre Flobert, the new owners, felt the same way. With its old world arrangement of nooks and patio, and now French cuisine, everything fits together as though planned from the start. The kitchen, which was formerly an open one, has been closed in, about the only major remodeling that was necessary.

Paul De Vaux was formerly with Ondine, and Pierre Flobert has been with Pierre's restaurant in Sausalito. Up to this point they have not secured a wine license (which is practically a must with French cooking) but one should be available soon. Meanwhile they serve beer.

La Petite Auberge is to be open six days a week—lunches 11 to 2, and dinners 5:30 to 11 p. m. What day of the week it will be closed has not yet been established.

Luncheon menu will consist of a daily special—also a line of salads and sandwiches. Dinners cover quite a range of selections—everything from potage to poissons and fromages to boissons. A slight knowledge of French is helpful in deciding what you want to eat—but don't let it stop you. I'm sure Paul and Pierre will be glad to translate.

IN THE UPPER right hand corner of the Bob's of Marin new menu, which is a very fine one, by the way, is a small item most people overlook, misunderstand or consider to be some kind of a fast gimmick.

It suggests a "take-home-your-plate dinner" for $2.75. No mention is made of what the entree consists of, for the reason that it is a special and changes from day to day. It is not to take home but to eat on the premises.

The plate is what you take home after you've disposed of the contents in the customary fashion. Happens you've got a good sized family or go there often you can end up with a full set of attractive entreeware. Rest assured the food is quality—also the plate. Matching cups are available at the cashier's desk.

Bob's has now dropped its menu into a more popular price range without sacrificing its substance in any way. This is a nicely laid out restaurant, excellent in food and service. Close in, too.

WORD IS that Ernie's Waterfront Restaurant has been approached by more than one outsider who would like to climb on the bandwagon in Sausalito's increasing business in good eating.

Ernie's has a choice spot. It isn't on the water's edge where you can reach out and trail your hand in the tide between the soup du jour and your New York cut, but it has a nice simple outlook on the yacht harbor and you should keep your mind on your food there anyway.

I doubt very much that Ernie Morrison and Jack Cannon will give in to any such proposals. If it's that good, they say, they might as well stay there and feather their own nests.

This kind of weather, Sunday is the busy day — from breakfast through dinner. Yachting people go there. So do lots of others.

STILL A FEW tickets left at Brands Ranch Wagon for opening game of the Giants and Chicago Cubs on April 14—very few. If you want yours, they'll easily be gone within a week.

RICKEY'S HAS completed the enclosure of its lanai and showed it off for the first time in last Tuesday's style show which has been going on weekly for a full year. Marion Bellamy, entrepreneuse of the tableau, beams all over just to have you mention it—as well she might.

Dinner menu at Rickey's over the past year hasn't changed much—price-wise or otherwise, but here are a few popular additions worthy of note. Roast stuffed boneless squab—broiled filet of beef en brochette—Louisiana frog legs provencale. Also something in the dessert line called Swiss Kiss. Beats me, lieutenant—all I know is it looks hot but tastes cold. I haven't sampled it yet.

Know what? I think Rickey's is here to stay. You might as well put it on your approved list, and go round and get acquainted. Tell them I sent—no, maybe you better not. You'll probably do better on your own.

TEAMED UP FOR DANCERS—Jaguar recording star Suzanne Summers is teamed up with the Lee Crosby Trio appearing Friday and Saturday nights at Little Sweden in Novato for dancing and listening. Shown here are Suzanne, "Hambone" Lee Crosby, "Big Tino" Granucci, accordionist, and Gil Castro with the clarinet.

'Goodby Breakfast' Set At Old Novato School

A public "Western Breakfast," paying parting tribute to Novato's old Grant Avenue School, soon to be replaced by a new commercial building, will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 a. m. April 11, arranged by the Novato branch of the Latter-day Saints Church.

This morning will include entertainment and horseback rides for children, announced co-chairmen Mrs. Dean Caldwell, Mrs. Gordon Yurth and Mrs. Jack D. Lewis, all board members of the church's Primary Assn., sponsoring the breakfast.

Novato's first school building, condemned as not meeting Field Act requirements of earthquake resistance, has been used by the church in recent weeks. Donations made at the breakfast will be used to augment the church's building fund.

Horses will be provided by the Junior Horsemen. Christine Clark will sing western ballads during the breakfast. The meal will be served by members of the Young Women's Mutual Improvement Assn.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Robert Mooney, Mrs. Robert Warner, Mrs. Ronald Davison, Mrs. Lash Laker, Mrs. Ed Swann and Mrs. John B. Laycock.

Golden Gate Seminary To Open In July

Golden Gate Baptist Seminary plans to open its five-million-dollar Strawberry Point campus between July 1 and 15, with an enrollment of about 425, President Harold K. Graves reported yesterday.

Dr. Graves disclosed the seminary's plans in a speech at a Sausalito Rotary Club luncheon at Alta Mira Hotel.

On Wednesday afternoon, a switch was thrown bringing electric power onto the campus, for the first time activating the seminary's $175,000 electric distribution system.

Dr. Graves said the seminary's start will mark the 100th anniversary of the dedication of the first Marin Baptist Church in San Rafael.

He was introduced by Robert Walt. George Elkington presided.

Kids' Tetherball Contest Set For San Rafael

The San Rafael Recreation and Parks Department will conduct a citywide tetherball contest for boys and girls next week.

The contest will be held in three age divisions: 8 and under, 9 and 10, and 11 and 12.

The schedule for the preliminary contests is as follows:

Albert Park, Thursday; Sun Valley School, Monday; E Street School, Tuesday; Santa Venetia School, Tuesday; McPhail School, Tuesday; Coleman School, Thursday; and West End School, Wednesday.

The winners of the preliminary playground contest will be eligible to participate in the city championships set for Saturday, April 11, at Albert Park beginning at 10 a. m.

Awards will be given to the city champions in each division.

Vandals turned on sprinklers and flooded the swimming pool at a home outside San Rafael Wednesday. John Eritner, gardener for Mrs. Edith Garland of 20 Montecito road, discovered the damage. He said barbecue equipment had been thrown into the pool.

Catholic High Pupils Enter Speech Contest

Marin Catholic High School will participate in the 22nd annual Catholic High School Speech Congress at St. Mary's College in Moraga tomorrow, sponsored by the St. Mary's College Debate Society.

The Marin school is one of 15 competing in the contest, said Robert Hass of San Rafael, serving on the committee of arrangements.

Youth Council Plans Thrift Shop, Brochure

Three projects were approved by the Fairfax Youth Activities Council when it met this week: a thrift shop, an employment clearing house of odd-jobs for 12 to 16-year-olds, and a brochure on the town of Fairfax.

The thrift shop and brochure are to raise money for improvements at Fairfax Pavilion, said Mrs. Jean Secchitano, corresponding secretary of the group. A permanent public address system is estimated to cost about $300 and showers for the pavilion from $2,000 to $2,500, both mentioned as possible projects.

SITE SOUGHT

Albert Lourdeaux, president of the council, and Larry Olivitti, are looking for a location for the thrift shop which the council hopes to open by mid-June. It would also house headquarters of the summer employment service.

Mrs. Secchitano said the council planned to invite Fairfax Central School Parent-Teacher Assn. to collaborate on the brochure and share in proceeds from it.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The eight persons who attend this week's meeting of the council elected the following officers: Lourdeaux, president; Mrs. Elmer Glasser, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy McGlothlin, treasurer; Donald Maloney, recording secretary; and Mrs. Secchitano, corresponding secretary.

The council's mailing address is Box 614, Fairfax, said Mrs. Secchitano. She said plans are underway to take sign-ups for youngsters interested in the employment service. Those who sign up will go to San Francisco as a group to obtain work permits with the aid of a car pool to be organized by parents, she said.

Native Sons, Daughters Set Session

The sixth annual "Meet Your Neighbor Breakfast" sponsored by the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West of Marin and Sonoma Counties will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Approximately 150 reservations for the breakfast have been received, chairman Chester Bonfiglio reported today.

Guests of honor will be the grand presidents of the two orders, Mrs. B. C. Dismuke of Santa Barbara and Raymond H. Shone of San Rafael. Master of ceremonies will be Lou Pellandini of Sonoma, past grand president of the Native Sons.

Following the breakfast, many of those attending will go on to dedicatory ceremonies for the Old Mill in Mill Valley as a historical landmark. Restoration of the Old Mill is a project of the Native Sons and Native Daughters under chairmanship of Mrs. Sadie Oliver of Sea Point Parlor 196 of Sausalito.

3 Marin Men To Help Judge Science Fair

Three Marinites have been named, along with 47 other Bay Area residents, as judges at the sixth annual Bay Area Science Fair, April 18 to 22, at the Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, it was annuonced today by A. B. Layton, chairman of the fair advisory board.

The three include Dr. Leonard E. Miller of 47 Lincoln avenue, San Anselmo, a chemist with California Research Corp.; James H. Stannard Jr. of 583 Tarragon drive, Terra Linda, a gas engineer for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., and Lawrence M. Roberts of Willow Hill, Ross, general manager of the ammonia division of Shell Chemical Co.

Judges will divide into teams to judge the 350 projects to be displayed by high school students.

The fair is sponsored by educators and business leaders to encourage high school work leading to careers in science and engineering.

Cups medals and ribbons will be awarded in the various grades, and two top winners will be sent with their projects to the National Science Fair, May 6-9 at Hartford, Conn.

One outstanding Bay Area student will also be selected after the fair in San Francisco as recipient of a $2,000 four-year college scholarship from the Crown Zellerbach Foundation, said Layton.

The first concrete rural road was laid in Wayne County, Mich., in 1909.

Assembly Passes Robes For Judges

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly, reversing an earlier action, yesterday passed a bill to require judges in all California courts to wear robes while hearing cases.

The measure by Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) was defeated 48-16 a week ago, but reconsideration was granted. Yesterday's vote was 42-28.

The State Judicial Council would prescribe the type of robe and each judge would have to buy his own robe.

HAWAIIAN CLERGYMAN BLASTS HULA DANCING AS IDOLATROUS

KAILUA KONA, Hawaii (UPI)—A Congregational minister charged today that some of Hawaii's hula dances are idolatrous and could lead people away from Christianity.

The ancient dances greeted the first New England missionaries to Hawaii in 1820 and have been enthusiastically performed by many descendants of the missionaries.

Rev. Glen Fisk, pastor of Hawaii's first church, Mokuaikua Congregational, said today that he strongly disapproves of the dances dedicated to the volcano goddess Pele and other gods of Hawaiian mythology.

The criticism was directed at a hula troupe headed by Miss Nona Beamer, member of an old island family, which performs for tourists at the Kona Inn. Miss Beamer said she was so upset by Fisk's criticism that she has been losing weight.

"My life is dedicated to the preservation of Hawaiian culture," Miss Beamer said. "I do not see how an ancient art form or folk lore interfere in any way with Christian beliefs. I am a Christian myself."

Permit Sought For Boat Mooring

W. B. Wilkie has applied to the Department of the Army for a permit to dredge and construct a covered boat mooring on property at 557 Francisco boulevard, San Rafael, adjacent to North Bay Electric Works.

The channelward face of the proposed mooring would coincide with the construction line recently established by the City of San Rafael, the Army District Engineers' office reported. The mooring would consist of parallel berths covered by a shelter 325 feet long and 45 feet wide.

Anyone objecting to the proposal may submit objections, in triplicate, to the Army District Engineer at 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco, by April 29.

Castro Will Seek Funds On U. S. Visit

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro says he will be looking for money as well as defending "Cuba and her revolution" on his visit to the United States later this month.

The bearded revolutionary told a TV audience last night that he will seek loans from the U. S. Export-Import Bank and "all sources of credit possible."

The Batista government left only 70 million dollars in the treasury, Castro said, adding that Cuba's economic situation was further aggravated by falling sugar prices and increased competition from other sugar countries.

Castro is leaving for Washington April 15.

'Bell, Book And Candle' Tops List Of Marin Film Showings

OFF THEY GO—David Niven and Cantinflas are off on one of the most exciting legs of their trip "Around the World in 80 Days," the block-buster comedy and scenic delight now playing at the Lark Theater in Larkspur. The Mike Todd production is hailed as the ideal picture for young and old.

Two First-Rate Oldies Also On Local Screen

By LESLIE DARD

The details of the new films and second run movies in Marin:

RAFAEL THEATER

"Bell, Book and Candle" (Technicolor) is a 106-minute blend of sex and hex involving Kim Novak, Jimmy Stewart, Jack Lemmon, Ernie Kovacs and Elsa Lanchester, among others. It opens Sunday in San Rafael.

Based on John Van Druten's stage comedy about witchcraft in Manhattan, its comic high-points are the fine work of Kovacs as a lush who authors books about black magic, and Lemmon as a novice warlock (male witch) who makes a precarious living as a bongo drummer.

Stewart and Kim provide the love interest.

Miss Novak, her brother (Lemmon) and an aunt (Miss Lanchester) who is an inept witch live a simple, bewitching existence—Kim calls it "early American activities"—until boredom sets in.

Thereupon Kim sets her sights on the human upstairs (Stewart). And since inhuman witches can't blush, weep or fall in love, Kim has a distinct advantage over Jimmy, who can.

Kim weaves her spells not wisely, but too well and her behavior augurs for her downfall as a witch, which is what you'd expect with Jimmy as the co-star in this Halloween-type tale.

Hermione Gingold, the British comedienne, shows up as a witch, too. She's the gal Jimmy consults when he needs some guidance to exorcise Kim's spell.

Estimate: Amusing.

Through tomorrow night, you can see Liz Taylor and Paul Newman in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," one of the five nominees for an Oscar as best film of the year.

TAMALPAIS

We have ventured the view in the past that there ought to be some way in which good films of a few years back could be revived for those filmgoers who missed them or want to see a first-rate movie a second time.

Fortunately, the distributors have re-released "A Place in the Sun" and "Stalag 17."

The first was directed by George Stevens, who won an Oscar for the sensitive performances he drew from Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Shelley Winters.

The film is based on Theodore Dreiser's famed story, "An American Tragedy." The courtroom scene is a brilliant climax for this engrossing tale.

The second feature stars William Holden (he won an Oscar for his performance). It is an earthy tale, sometimes bitter, sometimes poignant, sometimes pure slapstick, about men plotting an escape from a German PW camp. Billy Wilder directed.

NOVATO

Through tomorrow night, the features are "Forest Rangers" and "Wells Fargo." Come Sunday, the Novato's bringing in "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," starring Clifton Webb as a turn-of-the-century bigamist (in color).

In spite of his waspish effrontery, Mr. Webb's views are not meant to be taken seriously, for this is a comedy (based on a stage success).

As Pennypacker, he has settled into a happy marriage with a large and noisy family. In fact, he likes family life so much he sets up house in Philadelphia, where business takes him regularly.

Assisting in this whimsy are Dorothy McGuire as his understanding—up to a point—wife, and Charles Coburn, as the rollicking grandfather to Webb's 15 offspring.

The co-feature at the Novato will be "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," a frequently very funny spoof of westerns staring Kenneth Moore and Jayne Mansfield. (It's in color and CinemaScope).

SEQUOIA

"Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," which is being considered for an Oscar as best film of the year at the Academy Awards this month, starts at this Mill Valley theater Sunday.

In color, it stars Liz Taylor and Paul Newman.

Based on Tennessee Williams' Pulitzer Prize play, "Cat" also features Burl Ives as Big Daddy, a gusty old tyrant who confuses lavish gifts with fatherly affection. Newman plays his favorite son, a "30-year-old boy" who numbs himself with whisky in an attempt to repress the belief that his wife Maggie the Cat (Miss Taylor) has been unfaithful to him.

Maggie, in spite of the rejection, is anxious to have a child so that she may get a larger share of Big Daddy's estate.

This is a film for adults, filled with earthy vigor and lusty frankness as it reveals an open family conflict. The supporting cast—Judith Anderson, Madeleine Sherwood and Jack Carson—is especially strong.

FAIRFAX

"Geisha Boy" (color, VistaVision) is a series of gags perpetuated by comedian Jerry Lewis, who shows up as a magician with a USO troupe headed for Japan.

His one real asset is a mad white rabbit, whom he smuggles aboard ship. Quite a rabbit, too: it dines on cherries from a woman's hat, dodges under Marie MacDonald's bedclothes (with Jerry in pursuit), and finally turns out to be named Harriet, rather than Harry.

Suzanne Pleshette appears as an attractive WAF who tries to be helpful to our hero, but the real love interest is a beautiful Japanese girl (Nobu Atsumi McCarthy), whose little nephew becomes attracted to Jerry. He is involved in several delightful, sensitive sequences with these two.

The pace is typical Lewis: gags, contortion, mugging and zany fun.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES and TIBURON

Lloyd C. Douglas' stirring novel, "The Robe" — about what happened to the robe Christ wore on the day He was crucified—was the subject of the first CinemaScope movie ever made.

In color, it's on the MMM and Tiburon screens this weekend.

Heading the cast is Richard Burton as Marcellus, the young Roman officer who puts Jesus to death. Jean Simmons is the girl who loves Marcellus and follows him wherever he goes. Victor Mature appears as Demetrius, his slave, a convert to Christianity, and Michael Rennie is cast as Simon Peter.

The plot is purely fictional, being designed to present life as it might have been in the days of Christ, and to show the influence He had on everyone He met.

There's a minimum of sex and sadism, but the wide screen is handsomely utilized for swordplay and a thundering chase sequence, as well as dramatic shots of the Way of the Cross and Christ's entrance into Jerusalem the week before the Crucifixion.

LARK

A date has been set for the next feature, meaning that "Around the World in 80 Days" is in its final days. And if ever there was a film worth seeing for sheer entertainment, this is it.

In color, it is based on Jules Verne's classic about an English gentleman (David Niven) who made a bet in the year 1872 that he could get around the globe in 80 days.

For company on his jaunt he has a manservant (Mexican comic Cantinflas), a dogged detective (Robert Newton) who thinks Niven is a robber and trails him all the way, and an Indian princess (Shirley Mac Laine) whom he rescues from a funeral pyre.

The script, by humorist S. J. Perelman, is priceless, full of understated humor. Dozens of famous actors appear in cameo roles — brief performances which speed the action of the story.

Niven and his companions endure all sorts of trials, ranging from fire to wild Indians. Their journey adds up to a classic which you'll want to see again.

KIM WANTS JIMMY — James Stewart as the vanishing American—a bachelor—is bent on maintaining that status as he argues it out with Kim Novak in "Bell, Book and Candle," the new Technicolor comedy co-featuring Jack Lemmon and Ernie Kovacs opening Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

Singers Write Fine Finis To Concert Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Korean-born soprano Joy Kim and National Broadcasting Co. opera tenor Glade Peterson presented an evening of musical theater as the final program in the Mill Valley Concert Series last night at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse.

The second half of the program, consisting of two arias and a duet from "Madam Butterfly," was the outstanding part of their performance.

Effective costumes and much more successful dramatic action than in the earlier excerpts from "La Boheme" contributed to the pleasing effect, marred only by the fact that Peterson's voice was too powerful for the clubhouse.

Although Miss Kim's voice had adequate volume, the tenor was either unable or unwilling to sing mezza voce to achieve a better combination.

Miss Kim's pianissimo passages in the famous "Un Bel Di" aria, and in others too, were especially delightful.

Also making the second half of the recital outstanding were Miss Kim's delightful Korean folk songs.

In the first half of the recital, composed of two Mozart selections each for both Miss Kim and Peterson, the diminutive soprano proved herself an accomplished interpreter of this composer's music.

Although performed in costume with some stage setting, the excerpts from "La Boheme" were not too effective because of stilted dramatic interpretation, and the role of Mimi did not seem a particularly suitable one for Miss Kim.

A competent piano accompanist was Raymond McFeeters.

FIREMAN HAS TOO FAST A REFLEX

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—David S. Morris, 46, a voluntary fireman, relaxed in the chair of a barber shop having his beard trimmed.

He was listening to a television program. Suddenly a siren wailed on the TV set and he jumped just as the barber was drawing the razor down the side of his throat.

Six stitches were taken.

Farm Expert Sees Big Threat From Grasshoppers

FRESNO (AP)—One of Fresno County's farm experts who proved right last spring when he refused to join forecasts of dire grasshopper damage, is among the first to sound the alarm this year.

Agricultural Commissioner John Dixon said yesterday the threat is far worse from the 'hoppers this year than last.

"With the drought and resultant dry grass," he said, "and with indications of a heavier and earlier egg hatch than normal, the grasshoppers likely will descent on farms and orchards in great numbers."

Dixon said egg counts have shown as high as from 5 to 15 per square yard in the Fresno County foothills. Unless exceptionally favorable weather turns the tide, he said, the insects will move rapidly to the lowlands.

PATIENT ISN'T HARMED

Cancer Is Poisoned In New Technique

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—Now scientists can poison an arm or leg to kill a cancer without killing the patient.

The technique is also being used on the lungs, breasts and pelvis to fight regional cancers.

The treated part of the body has to be shut off from the rest and supplied with a separate source of fresh blood.

Dr. Oscar Creech Jr. of Tulane University described the new method before this week's American Cancer Society seminar.

A pumping machine that acts like an artificial heart and lung outside of the body makes the technique possible.

Suppose a doctor wanted to treat a cancerous leg with chemical poisons in an effort to kill the tumor.

He can shut off the cancerous leg by a tourniquet. Then he can hook up the artificial heart and lung to the blood vessels of the leg, circulating freshened blood through this area.

In this way, he can introduce strong poisons to the leg's blood stream for up to an hour without fear of poisoning the patient. Poisonous anti-cancer agents like nitrogen mustard can be used in fairly strong concentrations with little harm to the rest of the body.

There is some leakage, but it is not enough to hurt the patient.

The hour time limit reflects a tendency of the blood to become less useful under the strain of the pumping mechanism.

After the treatment, the poison is flushed out by plasma.

Arkansas School Chief Negligent In Fatal Fire Ousted

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—L. R. Gaines was discharged yesterday as superintendent of an Arkansas Negro boys industrial school as a result of a fire in a locked dormitory which killed 21 teen-agers March 5.

The school's board of directors said Gaines was dismissed for negligence in not having an adult with keys on duty in the building. Forty-eight boys escaped from the flaming dormitory by kicking their way through heavy metal window screens.

Also fired by the board of the Wrightsville Institution for Delinquent Boys was Gaines' wife, who was carried on the school payroll although she had a fulltime job as a school teacher; and two male employees the board said were unsatisfactory.

Nine other employees of the school resigned in protest of the firings, leaving five holdover staff members. All school employees are Negroes.

Guide Dogs Graduating Oldest Student, Age 76

Guide Dogs for the Blind will graduate the oldest student in its history tomorrow.

She is Mrs. Frances Parish of San Francisco, 76, mother of Mrs. James Redpath of 100 Forbes avenue, San Rafael. Mrs. Parish lost her sight in middle age and has been using a Guide Dog for 30 years. She supports herself by making and selling table mats, dolls and knit animals—including dogs.

Ordinarily, Guide Dogs for the Blind would not admit a student of Mrs. Parish's age. But after the death a few months ago of the dog that had been her "eyes" for nine years, she convinced Laurence Rees, director of training, that she was capable of taking the rigorous training required.

"An exception was made for an exceptional woman," said Rees, "after a physician gave her a sound bill of health."

Mrs. Parish's diploma will be presented to her tomorrow by her granddaughter, Linda Redpath.

Also graduating Saturday after taking the four-week course with their new dogs will be eight other blind persons: Jess L. Bork, La Grande, Ore.; Mrs. Irene Clark, Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Velma Decker, Sacramento; Harry V. Elliott, Paradise, Butte County; Fred Madges, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. Elisa Rogers, Los Angeles; Mrs. Rose Thornton, Van Nuys, and Harrison Alper, Denver.

2 Astonishing New Facts On Cancer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI)—Here are two new and astonishing facts about people and cancer:

1. After long lapses, cancer came back in six persons while they were under severe emotional strain.

2. The blood of a woman whose cancer had been arrested for a long time killed reawakening cancer cells more efficiently than the best cancer-killing drug

Dr. Oscar Creech Jr., of Tulane University, New Orleans, who disclosed these facts, had no explanation for the first beyond its obvious suggestion that the emotional mind, which is known to influence many body functions, can also influence the body's relations with its own cancerous parasite.

The second, Creech took as more confirmation of what practically all cancer doctors have come to believe: The body has natural chemical defenses against cancer.

The Time is Now!

THE PEOPLE of the world have hopefully watched your representatives meet in Geneva. They have been heartened by the progress which has been made in writing a treaty to end nuclear weapons tests. The negotiations have brought us the first rays of light in the twelve years of darkness since the cold war began. The men meeting in Geneva have given us hope—hope that the dangers of radioactive fallout will not be increased in the years to come, hope that the world need not continue to drift toward extinction in a suicidal arms race.

But now many problems confront your negotiators. There are problems in the negotiations themselves. These questions require political and technical answers, but basically the difficulties are caused by mistrust and deep suspicions and need human solutions.

There are also obstacles being raised by those who do not want a test ban agreement.

The obstacles and problems are real; but surely they are small beside the dangers of radioactive poisoning, and mutual annihilation in a nuclear war.

In New York, radioactive fallout was up 25% in the first 8 months of the year, according to The New York Times in December.

Senators Anderson and Humphrey, last week, emphasized that the AEC is keeping atomic test fallout data from the public and that the concentration of cancerogenic strontium-90 is greater in the U.S. than in any other area in the world and is increasing at a rate much greater than previously anticipated.

Today there are three nuclear powers. Tomorrow, unless the arms race is halted, France will be armed with nuclear weapons, and so will Germany. Traditionally neutral Sweden and Switzerland are considering nuclear arms. Communist China and countries of Eastern Europe will soon follow.

Today the missile race has just begun. By mid-1960, when missiles are hidden underground, inspection will be virtually impossible and the world will face a point of no return in ultimate peril.

With these developments the dangers of nuclear war by accident or by incident will increase rapidly. For these reasons, it is possible that a nuclear test ban may be the world's best last chance to begin international arms control.

It is very important to have a treaty which would depend on inspection teams and control posts and not only on words; a treaty which would bridge the gap of distrust and fear far outweighs the difficulties of finding solutions to these problems.

The problems will not be solved, however, unless a strong will exists in each country for reaching agreement. We are concerned about intransigence at the conference table. But we are also concerned about efforts to defeat that will, both here and abroad. Serious moves have been made to obstruct the talks by many forces in the world which are against a test control agreement.

The political judgments of the AEC and the Defense Department provide dangerous counsel for Americans and for the world. Time and time again this same weapons development group has misled the American people.

They have misled us about the "clean" bomb. No such thing exists or is likely to exist. They have misled us about the pollution of our milk, our drinking water, air and soil by radioactivity from bomb tests already held. The level of Strontium-90 in milk continues to rise and is reaching significant levels in many cities.

They have misled us about tactical nuclear weapons and the risk of "limited" nuclear war. But General Lauris Norstad has said, "It would be extremely difficult to limit the use of atomic weapons. There would be a very rapid tendency for things to get bigger . . ."

And now we are being misled about underground tests. The New York Times reported on October 31, 1958, "The underground atomic explosion in Nevada today broke through the surface 'slightly' . . . a breakthrough had not been expected."

The AEC and Defense Department are vocally opposing the United States Government's acknowledged position at Geneva which is to reach an agreement ending all nuclear weapons tests. By recommending that we continue with underground tests, they have acted in a manner embarrassing to the United States in the talks.

On October 31st, when the Geneva Conference began, an appeal was addressed to the conferees. It said, "We want you to feel that your job is to make this planet safe and fit for human habitation." In the months since then, a start has been made. There are many roadblocks in the way of an agreement. There will continue to be. But the price of failure may very well be the price of human life itself. The success of the Geneva negotiations is vitally important.

The responsibility for that success rests with you.

Miller Gives 'Inside' On U. S. Housing Bill

Rep. Clement W. Miller, home on a quickie Easter recess swing around the 1st Congressional District, last night discussed the "inside" on the federal housing bill, lashed critics of the measure and warned of a "creeping paralysis" unless a "sound and bold" program of public works is instituted.

Miller was addressing a meeting of the Construction Industries Council at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera.

Earlier in the day he had given a luncheon meeting the "impressions of a freshman congressman."

AUDIENCE OF 60

Speaking before 60 builders, developers, bankers, labor leaders and materials men last night, Miller said:

"Home building is the No. 1 industry in Marin. Even up north where it is lumber, the end product goes into building. Indeed, I think the entire economy of the country is fundamentally tied up to home building."

Miller, who is a member of the Banking and Currency Committee of the House, had these observations:

On the Federal Housing Bill (S-57): "I see a new attitude toward housing for the aged through private industry at substantially lower rents. There is opening up a vast new field of 'cooperatives'—buildings jointly owned and managed for the lower and middle income groups."

FREE INTEREST

On "free interest" vs. pegged discounts: "I go back and forth on this one. There is one theory that if you let interest rates reflect the law of supply and demand, they actually won't do it. Someone would control and manipulate the affair and you would be no better off."

On critics of the housing bill: "Calling this a budget buster or spender bill is false and misleading. It will cost 100 million, not two and one-half billion, as critics have tried to say; and it's a cheap price to pay for economic stability."

On the national income and how it is affected by building and public works: "We must move ahead, build and increase the income. If not, a creeping paralysis will set in and as a country we are moving toward stagnation."

URGES AIRPORT

Miller cited the need for Marin to have an airport to "urge and bring industry to the county." He followed his opening formal talk with a 45-minute question and answer period.

At a noon luncheon meeting with 50 Democratic friends and supporters, Miller called the job of a congressman "exciting and thrilling." He announced he will "definitely run for re-election in 1960 and anyone who wants to take the job away from me will really have to scratch for it."

He said he has four major impressions of his work:

1. There is so much business and need for doing so much about so many things that there is "a tendency toward superficiality." He therefore urged persons interested in particular legislation to "take this into consideration; keep your letters coming, not just one, but have one there each day at the top of the pile."

'GUTS OF CONGRESS'

2. Committees are "the guts of Congress." Each congressman can be on only one, or at best two, committees. Therefore he should "try to become conversant with his own field." Miller said he had attended every meeting of his committee.

3. More business is done at times on the floor of the House than is evident, although much time is wasted with routine and unnecessary discussions. The congressman said he tried to be on the floor when any important business was under way.

4. Dealing with fellow congressman is an important part of the job. The 150 new members are nowhere near a majority of the 436-member House. Therefore the "coalition of southern Democrats and northern Republicans is functioning full-blast, although we had hoped for more cooperation from the southerners."

REPLIES TO QUESTIONS

In answer to questions, Miller said:

His wife, who did not come west with him, is "fine"; his daughters are "in good health and have caught up with their school classes."

The housing bill may be the first test of Speaker Sam Rayburn's determination not to allow major legislation to die in a rules committee pigeonhole. If it does, he warned, the "fledgling building boom may die out."

There is still too much emphasis in Washington on military preparedness at the expense of a prosperous economy. There is no such emphasis on disarmament as there is on defense.

There is no inter-communication between the Senate and the House, "As far as I'm concerned, the Senate might be in Chicago."

Miller went to Napa County today for a series of meetings. He will return to Washington on Sunday.

Miller Tells Details Of School Aid Bill

By DIANA BRUCE

Rep. Clement W. Miller, in Marin yesterday for some political pulse-feeling, got both support and opposition to the Murray-Metcalf school aid bill which he is co-sponsoring.

Near the end of a two-hour session with educators and school trustees from his seven-county congressional district, Miller asked point-blank: "Is there enough money at the local level?"

His sole reply from the 40 persons present came from Willard E. Vernon, member of the San Rafael Board of Education.

HIS REPLY

Money could be raised by local property taxes "if people are willing to pay for improvements," declared Vernon. "I don't think we can go through the back door and get money from the federal government."

Congressman Miller had his doubts that "we have the tax base on property to support the kind of schools we want to have."

"My view is that with the increasing tendency of the tax dollar to fly to Washington, there should be an increasing tendency of the federal government to kick back some to local government," the congressman said.

BILL'S PROVISION

The Murray-Metcalf bill would provide $25 in federal funds for each school child between the ages of 5 and 17 in the 1959-60 fiscal year. Cost is estimated the first year at 1.1 billion dollars. Each succeeding year the payment per child would be increased $25, until reached $100 the fourth year.

The money would be earmarked for school construction and teacher salaries. How the money would be distributed within a state would be decided by the state.

Miller estimated that 70 cents of every tax dollar goes to the federal government. "We're talking about allocation of that 70 cents," he said. "Will it all go to defense?"

"You're assuming no change in the 70 cents," said Vernon. With federal aaid to education he said, "I think it's more likely to go to 71 or 72 cents."

EXPANDING ECONOMY

Miller shook his head. "I'm going on the assumption that our society is expanding at 5 per cent a year." He said an expanding economy could finance aid to education without cutting back on defense spending.

Arnold Wolpert of San Francisco, West Coast representative of the National Education Assn., quoted estimates that California, which pays 8.46 per cent of federal taxes, would get 8.09 per cent of the funds available if the Murray-Metcalf bill is passed.

California would get a larger proportion than New York, another "rich" state, because of its younger population, said Wolpert.

Opposition to federal aid was voiced by Harold H. Fulkerson, another member of the San Rafael Board of Education.

FEARS FOR FUTURE

Fulkerson said that although he had confidence in the present Congress, he feared "we are opening the door to what may ultimately be control."

"If there was ultimate control, what are the bad effects?" Miller asked.

Fulkerson said he believed that "diversified ideas are the strength of this country."

"Has the state interfered?" asked Miller.

"There is no question that it has," replied Fulkerson. He mentioned physical education required of high school students.

This drew a correction from Alfred Azevedo, a trustee of the Reed School District. The requirement for physical education was imposed in a constitutional amendment approved by the electorate in 1918, "but the state Department of Education has bounced other volleyballs," said Azevedo.

DOUBTS ON TEXTS

Azevedo had some misgivings about textbooks which might some day emanate from Washington under a federal aid to education program.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas of the San Rafael district said the present federal aid bills, which pay money to "federally impacted" school districts, were good bills. "The money goes into the general fund of a district with no strings attached."

Phillip W. Schneider, superintendent of San Jose School District which draws 900 pupils (69 per cent of its enrollment) from Hamilton Air Force Base and gets approximately one-third of its money under Public Laws 815 and 874, rose to the defense of federal aid.

SCOFFS AT FEARS

Schneider scoffed at fears that federal aid would bring a Hitler or Mussolini-type educational system.

"I don't mind paying county taxes, but I hate paying federal taxes, knowing where it's going, mostly up in the air," said Schneider.

Congressman Miller said: "Mail I'm getting is 98 per cent in support of aid to education. If people are opposed, I'm just not hearing from them."

Superintendent Lucas reported at the beginning of yesterday's session that 90 responses from educators and trustees who were unable to attend the meeting showed 66 in favor of federal aid to education, 20 opposed and "many interesting and goofy comments."

Couple Attacked By 2 Dogs Sue

A San Francisco couple, who allege two boxer dogs attacked them at the House and Patio store in Corte Madera, filed suit yesterday for $5,000 damages plus medical cost.

Frank G. Casella Jr. and his wife, Donna R., allege the boxers were owned by Mr. and Mrs. Don W. O'Neil of House and Patio.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Casella, who was then an expectant mother, entered the store Feb. 7, holding a toy French poodle in her arms. As soon as she and her husband entered, a large boxer dog jumped at her. Casella says he tried to subdue the boxer, and a second boxer attacked.

The Casellas say they suffered bites and bruises, and their poodle was badly bitten.

Farewell Dinner Tonight Honors Retiring Quentin Medical Chief

Dr. Morton D. Willcutts, chief medical officer at San Quentin Prison for eight years, will be honored at a farewell dinner at 7 o'clock tonight at Hamilton Air Force Base noncommissioned officers club.

The physician, who was retired from the Navy as a vice admiral, retires from his second career because he has reached his 70th birthday, the state's compulsory retirement age, said Associate Warden W. D. Achuff.

The dinner will be attended by Warden Fred R. Dickson and others of Dr. Willcutts' associates at the prison, representatives of the Department of Corrections in Sacramento, and a number of his former colleagues in the Navy and their wives.

Dr. Willcutts resides at 308 Golden Gate avenue in Belvedere with his wife, Marie. He joined the prison after a distinguished naval career that spanned 34 years. He was a personal physician to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and medical officer of the U.S. Legation at Peiping, China.

His many military decorations include the Legion of Merit for the Okinawa campaign. Dr. Willcutts is a member of the New York Commandery of Naval Order of the United States; the Assn. of Military Surgeons; a fellow of the American Medical Assn.; a fellow and governor of the American College of Surgeons; a fellow-member of the American Board of Surgery; a member of the Military Order of World Wars and Military Order of Carabo.

His retirement from San Quentin was effective Wednesday. He will be succeeded by Capt. Herman Gross, naval physician who lives at 951 Idylberry road, Marinwood. Captain Gross, commanding officer of the Naval Dispensary in San Francisco, is retiring from the Navy and will start his duties at the prison on May 8.

LEADS THE MASTERS — Stan Leonard gets off a drive from the 17th tee during opening round of Masters Golf Tournament yesterday. Leonard, a Canadian entry, took first round honors with a three-under-par 69. (AP Wirephoto)

Powerful Foreign Threat In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Since the Masters Golf Tournament was born 25 years ago, every champion has borne the imprint "made in U.S.A." This could be the year for an imported brand.

As the star-spangled field swung into the second round today, a short, balding Canadian, Stan Leonard, was two strokes out in front with a three-under-par 69. Four overseas players were within four shots of first place.

Peter Thomson of Australia, holder and four-time winner of the British Open crown, and Spain's amazing Angel Miguel were bracketed with three U.S. pros at 72. Gary Player of South Africa and Big Dave Thomas of Wales were among nine men tied at 73.

After a frustrating day of early rain and shifting winds, the run for one of the game's most coveted titles was still wide open, but the foreign threat never was stronger.

The best an outsider ever has done in this event came last year when Leonard tied Ken Venturi for fourth, two strokes back of Arnold Palmer.

Leonard, 44, six times professional champion of his country, had the luck and patience where others failed yesterday and therein lies the story of his remarkable round under extremely difficult conditions.

Two strokes back of Leonard came the defending champion, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., red hot Jackie Burke Jr., of Houston and Chandler Harper, a balding club manufacturer from Portmouth, Va., who has played in only two tournaments this year.

Thomson and Miguel, the latter the surprise individual winner in the Canada Cup matches at Mexico City last year, were bracketed with the reigning National Open champion, Tommy Bolt, and two touring pros, Jay Hebert and Gene Littler, all tied at 72.

In the 73 list with Player and Thomas were Ben Hogan, who had bogies on three of the last five holes; Art Wall, Billy Maxwell, Mike Souchak, Dick Mayer, and two well-known amateurs, Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, Mich. and Bill Hyndman III of Arlington, Va.

The red-hot advance favorites found the tricky winds and Augusta National's par 72 too hard to handle, Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff were among 14 at 74. Ken Venturi of San Francisco was tied with 11 others at 75.

It's Redwood Vs. Drake In Prep Finals

The oft-postponed championship playoff of the Marin County High School Baseball Tournament is scheduled to take place tomorrow, 2:30 p.m. at Albert Field with the Drake Pirates meeting the Redwood Giants for the title.

The finals originally were scheduled for March 24, but rainy weather put it off to March 26, then March 31 and finally tomorrow.

Yesterday Drake won its final warmup game for the finals by downing Galileo, 3-1 at Drake, thanks to a nifty pitching job by sophomore Nino Geminiani and brilliant defensive play by leftfielder Dick Spackman.

Geminiani struck out six, walked only three and only a first inning triple put Galileo on the scoreboard.

Spackman personally saved two runs by throwing out Galileo runners at the plate in the first and seventh innings with perfect throws.

He also singled home one of Drake's three runs in a fifth inning rally. An infield single by Keith Chapman and an error on the play enabled Spackman and Mike Bresnan to score the other two markers.

BAFFLING PICTURE

Giants' Relievers Outclass Starters

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants ended a disappointing Cactus League campaign today with a contest against their perennial spring training foe, Cleveland.

Manager Bill Rigney sent Jack Sanford to the hill.

The San Franciscans will continue to meet Cleveland next week in a cross-country jaunt through Salt Lake, Denver, Topeka, Des Moines and Omaha. This will get them to St. Louis for the season opener.

Yesterday, another one of the Giants' "big four" starting pitchers was pasted, as the Bay City men fell 4-2 before Boston, new kingpin of the Cactus League.

Young Mike McCormick was touched for eight hits and four tallies in six innings. It was another disappointment for the Giants, who have seen top starters McCormick, Sanford and Sam Jones take their lumps this week while the fourth ace, John Antonelli, quit after two innings of pitching Wednesday and complained of a tight shoulder.

The brighter side of the picture has been the showing of the Giants' crew of relievers. Yesterday, Gordon Jones and Paul Giel pitched three innings of shutout ball after Joe Shipley and Al Worthington blanked the Chicago Cubs four frames during a losing effort on Wednesday.

It presents a baffling picture for the Giants, who were alleged to have a tough quartet of starters, but a weak relief brigade.

The Giants collected eight hits off Red Sox Ike Delock and Herb Moford yesterday. Orlando Cepeda collected two bingles and Daryl Spencer, who has had a good week at the dish, swatted a left field homer.

In other developments, the Giants sliced catcher Al Steiglitz and infielder Benny Valenzuela off the roster and optioned them to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League. The Giant brass had especially kind words for the rookie Steiglitz, however, and predicted he would be back next year to stay.

Tiburon Pony League Signups Tomorrow

Tiburon Peninsula boys in the 13-14 age bracket interested in playing Pony League baseball this season should report to the Strawberry Little League diamond tomorrow for signups and tryouts, team officials announced today.

The signups will start at 10 a.m., followed immediately by the tryouts. Boys are asked to bring their own gloves and spikes.

Shinguard Salesman Says Mays Was Victim Of Freak Accident

CONNOLLY

Let's plunge into the interesting case of Mr. Frank Kenneally, the high potentate of the Wilson Sporting Goods firm.

For an unassuming fellow, Kenneally has attained considerable notoriety in baseball circles. He's the guy who measures the ball players for their uniforms, sends them bats, gloves, spikes and other accessories they use during a season.

Kenneally has been around and about for quite a spell and he is better than an encyclopedia when it comes to dates, names, etc.

"Do you supply the shin guards for catchers?" sezzi to Frank, after Willie Mays sliced himself for 35 inches along the shin bone.

"I do," pleaded Kenneally innocently.

"But it's a bum rap. The shin guard a catcher wears has no metal in it, nothing harder than leather. But it's firm leather.

"The fact that Willie Mays was unfortunate enough to find the pointed end of the shin guard when he slid, is regrettable. But it is purely and simply an unusual accident, an unaccountable accident.

"In OVER 30 years with the Wilson Company I can only remember one other player who suffered an injury from a shin guard. And that player was Bill Salked, once the apple of Bill Essick's eyes when he first joined the Yankee chain.

"Salked's career was cut short by a freak accident. He fell over a player sliding into the plate and the player's spike caught him at the knee cap, and ruined him for all intents and purposes. But he did remain in baseball for many years afterwards.

"Salked's shin guard parted at the knee cap and the player's spike happened to crash through it and caused a big gash that really slowed him up and eventually cost him a sparkling career in organized baseball.

"AT THE time of Salked's injury, the kid was headed for a great stretch in baseball. But his leg stiffened and no matter what the medicos did for him they couldn't keep the knee cap from stiffening. And with a stiff knee you can't run. So you'll have to believe me when I say it never happened before and it never will happen again."

According to Keneally the accident to Willie Mays has the same earmarks of freakness that Salked's had.

"It was one of those unexplainable things that no manufacturer can guard against. If the shin guard hasn't any break at the knee, the catcher couldn't bend over. So if he bends over and somebody plants a spike in between the opening in the knee pad, it has to go down in the record books as a freak accident," explains Kenneally.

REPORTS from the Giants at Phoenix make no mention of Willie Mays being stiff legged. In fact Garry Schumacher, the Baron of Ballyhoo, just back from the Giants camp, explains it by saying, "Willie is just as fast and just as daring as he was before the accident. We think it left no injury whatever."

And if it makes any difference to Mr. Kenneally's feelings or his boss' feelings, we're happy, too, that nothing the Wilson Company made is hurting any ball player.

Ray Ordered To Sign For Title Fight

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York State Boxing Commission today ordered Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson to sign a contract for a defense of his title against Carmen Basilio by April 15 or face the loss of his crown.

Commission Chairman Melvin L. Krulewitch said that after deliberation the commission decided that Basilio from whom Robinson won the title 13 months ago, was the only logical contender for the 160-pound championship.

Basilio posted a $2,000 challenge with the commission 20 days ago backing up his bid for another shot at Robinson.

After Robinson was notified of the Basilio challenge, his lawyer informed the commission that the champion already had entered into negotiations for a defense against European Middleweight Champion Gustav Scholz of Germany. Scholz is the fourth-ranked middleweight contender.

Krulewitch said the commission agreed that with all due respect to Scholz' ability, he was not considered a suitable contender at this time.

Little Leaguers Should Learn Stars Start In Minor Leagues

'Tis spring, tra-la, and every young man's fancy turns to Little League baseball.

And for the men who run the local Little Leagues this is the time of year that presents a big problem. Such as the one that disturbed a recent office visitor who manages a local team.

He was trying to find a diplomatic way to tell some of his less-talented youngsters that they were being sent down to a "minor" team while others could stay with the "major" team.

"It's really tough to tell the kids they're not good enough to stay with the major team," he frowned. "Some of the kids think it's a disgrace to play on the minor teams."

A disgrace, is it? Ask your youngster if he thinks Willie Mays was "disgraced" by playing with Trenton and Minneapolis before he made good in the majors. Stan Musial spent more than three seasons in the minors at Williamson, Daytona Beach, Springfield and Rochester.

Mickey Mantel was groomed for future greatness at such farm clubs as Independence, Joplin and Kansas City. In Missouri, they showed him.

Ted Williams wasn't always the batting kind of the major leagues. He started his climb in San Diego.

We can go down a long list of stars of today who had to work their way up the ladder—Yogi Berra, Hank Aaron, Orlando Cepeda, Red Schoendienst, Whitey Ford, Warren Spahn, etc., etc., etc.

Very few start at the top, not only in baseball, but all walks of life. Little League age is a good time to learn this.

RECENTLY THE members of the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club played what they called a "T and F" Tournament.

Seems the dear ladies get tired of just plain old match or medal tournaments so they dream up odd-ball events. The "T and F" is the latest in a long line of these silly things and it really snowed us until club publicist Marcia Lee explained, "T and F" mean only the First and Third holes, and all others that begin with the letters T and F are counted. Coincidentally, they add up to nine holes, Get it?

Another tournament the ladies play are "Throw Out Three Holes" tournament in which the player may eliminate the three holes on which she didn't play so well. Last time we played golf we called it a "Throw Out 18" tournament.

SAN FRANCISCO again will welcome the Giants with another gigantic parade on Monday, April 13, the eve of their 1959 home opener with the Chicago Cubs.

And again the man who will help organize the celebration is San Rafael's Dick Skuse, a public relations and advertising executive.

Last year Skuse and Andy Lerios master-minded the gigantic parade that welcomed the Giants to their first season in S.F. Some of the Giants' players called it "the most spectacular parade we've ever witnessed, even better than the Milwaukee parade after the Braves won the World Series in 1957."

Says Skuse: "We expect this year's celebration to be even better than last year's."

WHITEY LITCHFIELD, the perpetual-motion machine who owns Bermuda Palms in San Rafael and is keenly interested in Little League baseball, reports three "gigantic" dances are planned at his ballroom to benefit the L.L. program.

On April 10 about 2,000 square dancers (how can anyone so round be so square?) will strut their stuff; April 24 has been set aside for a teenage dance and May 1, according to Litchfield, is the "gigantic, giant" dance for everyone.

"Gigantic" is a household word at Bermuda Palms.

Anyway, all proceeds will help the local Little League get a new park.

PETALUMA HIGH will claim the youngest head football coach in the country next fall when Fred Brock succeeds the retired Bill Abbey in the egg city. Fred is only 23 years old. He starred for Abbey in 1952.

GOLDEN VALLEY Conference, of which College of Marin is a member, may abandon collegiate rules and adopt high school rules next football season.

The proposal will be brought up at the conference's spring meeting.

High school rules provide for unlimited substitutions, one-point conversions only and goalpost widths the same as they are now. Collegiate rules (NCAA) call for limited substitutions, one and two-point conversions and wider goalposts beginning next season.

The GVC is expected to adopt the prep rules, as some other J.C. conferences in the state already have done.

TOMMY KERCH, 7-year-old son of Rancho Nicasio's Glenn Kerch, entered his first swimming meet recently in San Francisco and won a third place ribbon. With the prize clutched in his hand, a businesslike Tommy approached his father and said: "Gee, Daddy, this is the first ribbon I won in my WHOLE life."

COACH PAUL DALY'S Redwood High School swim team looks like a champion, and for good reason. The classy Giants practice every day at — 6:30 a.m.!!

Local aqa fans, incidentally, are anticipating a tremendous battle next Tuesday when the Giants battle perennial champion Tamalpais, now enjoying a 30-meet victory record. From what we hear, Redwood should snap that record. The meet will be in Tam's pool starting at 3:30 p.m.

Mighty Yanks Look Strong In Pitching

By Associated Press

Casey Stengel isn't doing too much talking these days about his New York Yankee pitching staff. He doesn't have to—their actions are speaking louder (and possibly clearer) than could his words.

With the season getting into full swing a week from today, the world champions are getting Grade-A performances from all of their expected starters. The only possible leak in the Yankee dike that is expected to hold back the American League contenders is the sudden back injury to first baseman Bill Skowron.

In the last five days, Stengel has gotten top-flight performances from Tom Sturdivant, Bobby Shantz, Art Ditmar, Don Larsen, Bob Turley, Jim Coates and Whitey Ford.

STARTERS NAMED

These are the men Stengel expects to use in his starting pitching rotation. The latest line runs like this:

Sturdivant: Pitched seven innings against the Chicago White Sox March 29, allowing two runs and six hits. In 1958, the righty was 3-6 with a 4.18 earned run average.

Shantz: In seven innings against the Cincinnati Reds on March 30, he allowed five hits and no runs. The little lefty was 7-6 last year with a 3.36 ERA.

Ditmar: On March 31 against Kansas City, the right-hander gave nine hits and two runs in eight innings. He had a 3.41 ERA last year, winning nine of 17 decisions.

Larsen: Stricken with a pulled muscle in his pitching shoulder March 15, the big right-hander allowed the St. Louis Cards one run on three hits over four innings, April 1. He was 9-6 with a 3.08 earned run average last year.

TURLEY STRONG

Turley: Pitched nine innings for the Yankee B squad in a 4-3 decision over Richmond, also on April 1. The World of the International League, also on April 1. The World Series star was Stengel's leading pitcher in '58 with a 21-7 record and a 2.98 ERA.

Coates: Relieved Larsen and pitched one-hit ball for three innings. The rookie has drawn Stengel's praise as the bright light of his young hurlers and will probably stick with the club.

Ford: Went eight innings yesterday, beating the St. Louis Cards 2-1, and scattered nine hits. He did not show any signs of arm trouble, which has plagued him in the past. The little lefty was 14-7 last year with a 2.01 ERA.

In other exhibition games yesterday, the Boston Red Sox won the Cactus League title with a 4-2 victory over San Francisco, the Cleveland Indians knocked off the Chicago Cubs 4-2, and in night games the Philadelphia Phils defeated Baltimore 8-6 and the Chicago White Sox won over Cincinnati 6-5.

WASHED OUT

Los Angeles-Pittsburgh, Washington-Milwaukee and Kansas City-Detroit were rained out. Larry Jackson went the distance for St. Louis, allowing nine hits. Skowron, hitting .446, strained a back muscle during a pregame warmup.

Willie Jones paced the Phils' 13-hit attack with two singles and a double for three RBI, with Jim Finigan's error in the third inning opening the flood gates for four Phillie runs.

Jim Landis' homer off Joe Nuxhall with one out in the ninth gave the White Sox their victory. Gus Bell hit a three-run homer and Frankie Robinson one with none on for Cincy.

HE DIDN'T NEED IT ANYWAY

The track shoe from the foot of Temple City (Calif.) High School's John Bibler (second from right) flies high in the air (upper left) after it sailed from his foot in a high hurdles race yesterday. Barefoot Bibler didn't need it anyway as he went on to win the race. (AP Wirephoto)

Patterson To Make 3 TV Title Bouts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Home television viewers, some of whom may have forgotten what Floyd Patterson looks like, will be treated to at least three future fights involving the heavyweight champion within the next 15 months.

The first will be Patterson's defense against Britain's Brian London at Las Vegas, Nev., May 1, which will be televised nationally by NBC on its regular Friday TV series. The same network also plans to televise another Patterson fight "before next Christmas and a third heavyweight title brawl "before June of 1960."

Television arrangements for Patterson's fight with Ingemar Johansson of Sweden at Yankee Stadium, June 25, have not been completed yet, but this is expected to be shown to home viewers.

Home TV plans for the Patterson-London bout were completed yesterday when Madison Square Garden officials disclosed they have relinquished the May 1 date on the weekly NBC series to Cecil Rhodes Jr., who will promote the Las Vegas fight.

This move by the new Garden bosses seemingly ended a long feud that Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, had conducted against the famed punch emporium since 1956. D'Amato had steadfastly refused to permit his champion to fight in the Garden when the International Boxing Club was in power.

However, now that the IBC has departed from the Garden under a federal court dissolution order, D'Amato apparently is willing to do business with its successor. In fact, several other members of D'Amato's stable may also engage in future Garden fights.

Robertson, Green Pace Collegians In Pan-Am Trials

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The College All-Stars, based on their initial showing, should breeze through the Pan-American Games basketball trials without taking a deep breath.

With Oscar Robertson and jumping Johnny Green showing the way, the collegians turned back the Phillips Oilers, last night after the Wichita Vickers rolled to an 89-73 triumph over the Armed Forces All-Stars in the opening games of the round-robin tournament.

In tonight's games, the college All-Stars play the Armed Forces representatives and the Oils meet the Vickers. The winner of the three-night tournament will place from five to seven men on the U. S. team that will compete in this year's Pan-Am Games at Chicago.

The collegians, although they have been playing together less than a week, displayed remarkable teamwork. And their accuracy was outstanding as they converted 53.7 per cent of their shots from the field.

Longden's 4 For 4 Boosts Total Win Mark To 5,279

SAN BRUNO (AP)—Ol' Granddaddy Johnny Longden had a perfect day at Tanforan Race Track yesterday—four winners in four rides.

That increased the world's winningest rider's total to 5,279.

And if his triumphant string continues at its present pace—10 winners in 34 races at Tanforan—he may forget all about retirement.

The 52-year-old pumper—so-named because of his pumping-arm style of riding—said recently he might hang up his tack after the Hollywood Park meeting ends in late summer.

But riding winners is Johnny's greatest thrill . . . and seeming chief interest in life. He is up before dawn most mornings and usually goes right to the track to work out horses.

"What would I do if I quit?" is his consistent reply to queries. Become a trainer? That's for his son, Vance. College-educated Vance trained two of Longden's four winners—Rosy Turf, a $6.80 payoff in the first race, and Royal Run, $13.20 in the fifth. Both are owned, by the way, by Alberta Farms of Canada, in which son Vance has an interest.

The Canadian-born jockey also won the $3,500 featured seventh race on Seaneen at $3.40 and the eighth aboard Snack Abbey, $5.90.

Johnny is the first rider to win four races at this meeting.

His triumph aboard Seaneen for an old friend, owner Neil S. McCarthy, involved a bit of daring—threading the needle among the other four entries entering the stretch. He won by only a neck in a stretch duel with Tyhawk.

Victory in the eighth was in the manner Johnny likes best—aboard a front runner who never was headed. You don't get in trouble that way—and on a muddy track you don't get mud kicked into your face.

Johnny, who is deeply tanned and deeply wrinkled from 32 years of riding in all kinds of weather, seldom smiles.

But he was grinning broadly as he trudged from the winner's circle to the jockeys' room after victory No. 4—5,279, if you like big figures, as Johnny does.

MARINITE TO OFFICIATE AT PAN-AM GAMES

Dr. Albert de Ferrari of Corte Madera, ex-President of the San Francisco Olympic Club, has been named Internaitonal Amateur Wrestling Federation delegate to the Pan-American Games in Chicago Aug. 27 to Sept. 7, it was learned today.

The appointment was announced in Paris by the Federation Internationale de Lutte Amateur. His duties, it was reported, will be to see that international technical rules are perfectly applied.

Dr. de Ferrari is vice-president of the Pacific Assn., Amateur Athletic Union for Marin and Sonoma counties.

Bay Area Standouts Sparkle For Orioles

MIAMI (AP)—Willie Tasby of Oakland, Calif., and Gus Triandos, a former San Franciscan, each got three hits yesterday for the Baltimore Orioles who lost to Philadelphia 8-6.

Ailing Murray Rose Sets Record In AAU Swim Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Murray Rose, the fabulous Australian swimmer, has turned the National AAU Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships into a medical clinic.

The question is: Will the 20-year-old Rose be healthy enough to defend his 220-yard freestyle title tonight?

Although he was ailing last night, it didn't stop him from retaining his 1500-meter crown in meet record time of 18:18.4, nearly two seconds better than the mark registered by George Breen here nearly two years ago.

He nearly didn't swim at all. He was running a 100-degree temperature and his mother, Mrs. Ian Rose, permitted him to answer the gun only after he promised her that he would quit if he felt weak.

Mrs. Rose, at poolside, said, "I don't want him to strain his heart."

Rose, who appeared to get stronger with each stroke, licked Alan Somers, 17-year-old Indianapolis high school star, by three yards, and Breen by even more, in Yale's 50-meter pool.

The 20-year-old University of Southern California sophomore said he felt much better when it was over.

As he left for a hotel with his parents, Rose insisted he would be ready for today's tests, the 220-yard sprint and the anchor leg on the Trojans' 400-yard freestyle relays team.

Mrs. Rose suggested that any decision could wait.

How about Rose's coach, Pete Daland?

"He'll be with his teammates," said Daland.

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

DISTRESS SIGNALS

Next best thing to keeping out of trouble is knowing what to do when in it.

The most important thing of course is to keep a cool head. You can't have a cool head in any emergency unless you are sure that no matter what happens you and your passengers will stay afloat until help comes.

So be smart. Do first things first. And the first thing to do is get everyone into life jackets. EVERYONE. That means you and all adults as well as children.

Now that you have donned the jackets properly the chances are excellent that you are all safe, so now you can afford to be the cool-headed skipper. Now you can summon help.

HERE WE repeat again what we said in our opening article: "Basically, you will need to use common sense."

This statement certainly applies now. For anything that will attract attention and get help to you quickly may be used to indicate your need for help.

However, over a period of time, the Coast Guard and shipping internationally has developed a system of distress communication that is fairly standard. To go into all facets is impossible in this space but there are the few things you, as a small boat owner, should know.

1. The radio-telephone. This is the boatsman's greatest comfort. To be able to summon help, to call home when late so the folks won't worry, to speak to other ships miles away, gives one a feeling of security not otherwise attainable. Today the prices are low enough so that if you can afford a boat, you can afford a radio-telephone too.

THE SPOKEN word for distress is "MAYDAY." Never use the word "MAYDAY" unless there is a serious need. Because when you call for help, you immediately activitate the Coast Guard facilities and it becomes a real big deal. It might involve ships, planes, helicopters and a great many men. No expense will be spared to rescue you, your passengers and your boat.

So under the circumstances, see how silly it would be to yell "MAYDAY" into your phone simply because you are stuck in the mud off the channel in an outgoing tide!

2. Distress flares: You are required to carry distress flares at all times. The flares should be both visible at night and by day. Your marine dealer can show you various kits. If you want to go first class, you can buy a gun that will fire the flare. If not, get some flares that can be activitated by hand.

3. Other methods of attracting attention:

(a) Flying your yacht ensign upside down tells the world you are in trouble;

(b) Flying the international code flags NC will bring aid (if seen by boatsmen who recognize them);

(c) A continuous sounding of any fog signal, firing of a blank cartridge gun;

(d) At night, a controlled deck fire from oil or tar (but be sure it's in a metal drum! Don't burn up your boat!);

(e) Signaling with mirror in daytime and flashlight at night, the Morse Code for distress SOS, three dots, three dashes, three dots.

THE METHODS above listed are a mixture of inland and international. There are other ways as well. I can think of many other ways of attracting attention and so can you.

Now the chances are very good that if you do all things in a common sense manner and are prepared for all situations, you will never find occasion to use them.

For statistics seem to point up one big truth: Accidents to small boats rarely happen to well equipped craft, skippered by men and women who have taken the trouble to learn enough so that they know that the sea is not to be feared, only respected.

NBA Playoff Opener On TV Tomorrow

BOSTON (AP) — Giant-killer Minneapolis today mapped slow-down tactics to atone for 18 straight losses to the Boston Celtics and regain its rating as the royalty of pro basketball.

The setting will be the finals of the National Basketball Assn. playoffs which open tomorrow afternoon at Boston Garden in a nationally-televised contest (NBC-TV, 12 noon, PST).

The Lakers, who finished 17 games back of defending world champion St. Louis in the Western division only to stun the Hawks in the regional playoffs, aren't going to play dead for the Celts.

On paper, it looks like a colossal mismatch.

Boston has crushed the Lakers in a cross-country victory string that extends back to their final meeting of the 1956-57 campaign. The Celts have won on their own court, at the Minneapolis Auditorium and on neutral floors with equal ease.

But playoffs are a different matter as St. Louis discovered. Led by the scoring magic of rookie-of-the-year Elgin Baylor, the Lakers wiped out the Hawks in six games. Meanwhile, Boston had to go the full seven contests to eliminate Syracuse in a frantic finish.

GOOD DIET, BETTER PLAY

Nutritionist May Help Boost A's In Standings

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Arnold Johnson watched horrified as some members of her husband's baseball team, the Kansas City Athletics, polished off two T-bone steaks and a large slab of strawberry shortcake for breakfast.

"What kind of insane eating is this?" she asked.

Mrs. Johnson hustled off to see Dr. Carlton Fredericks, nationally known nutrionist and health authority. They arranged a meeting with Johnson.

As a result, the Athletics today have a full-time nutritionist on their staff. Proper eating has been added to batting, fielding and throwing as necessary ingredients for a winning team.

Dr. Fredericks, author of four books on nutrition, disclosed today he is dedicated to keeping the A's from committing gastronomical suicide.

He believes that if the K.C. players follow his advice it will help them finish higher than their seventh place American League station of 1958. A better nourished team performs better, he says.

Dr. Fredericks, a veteran radio commentator who for many years has been telling women how to keep thin through proper diet, claims his methods prolong life and improve performance in any field of endeavor.

Club owner Johnson, his general manager, Parke Carroll, field skipper Harry Craft and the players have indicated their willingness to go along with Dr. Fredericks' theories.

Dr. Fredericks, who earned his Ph.D. in nutrition at New York University, admits the players are a little timorous about the project. He feels, however, they are convinced he can help them.

Just to be sure of the player's cooperation, Dr. Fredericks will meet shortly with their wives to acquaint them with his year-long program. They will be issued text books, nutritional charts and suggested menus. All players will be given vitamin supplements in accordance with their needs. Special classes will be conducted from time to time with the wives.

TV FIGHT

Logart Out To Avenge Upset Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Isaac Logart still has designs on the world welterweight championship, so he's fully aware of the personal stakes in his 10-round rematch tonight with young Charley Scott.

Logart, one of Cuba's more skilled exports to U.S. prize-fighting, met Scott in what generally was regarded as a warm-up at New York three weeks ago.

Logart, left-hooking veteran of 72 fights, was a 3-1 favorite. What happens? Scott, an unfamiliar 22-year-old Philadelphian, wins by a split decision.

BOUT ON TV

Anyone interested may see what happens this time by tuning in tonight for this nationally televised contest (NBC, 7 p.m. PST) from Capitol Arena.

Logart is again the favorite, but by 8 or 9 to 5.

The earlier decision over Logart represented Scott's 20th victory against nine defeats. It was the 12th loss for the 25-year-old Cuban, who has won 55 and had 11 draws. More devastating, it cost him standing in the welterweight ratings.

BOO!—This contraption has started an argument in the American Hockey League. Fred Glover, captain of the Cleveland Barons, is shown wearing it in a practice drill as protection for a broken nose. But the Hershey team doesn't want him to wear it in league playoffs, claiming it gives him an advantage in rought play. (AP Wirephoto)

New Hope In The Heart Of Shantz, The Hard Luck Kid

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's new hope in the heart of Bobby Shantz today despite the admission that seven innings don't make a season.

Little Bobby has been through six years in which he ranged from utter desolation to mediocre misery. And this had been just another lacklustre spring for the mite who was the American League's most valuable player in 1952.

Until this week.

Shantz hadn't been looking good, or even fair. At one stage the New York Yankees sent him back from an exhibition trip so that he could be given more work at their St. Petersburg, Fla., base. There he had one good stint against minor league opposition, but Bobby brushed it off with the discouraged remark that "anybody should beat those kind of hitters."

Everything looks brighter since Monday, however, when he went seven fine shutout innings against the power-packed Cincinnati Reds.

"And what's even more encouraging," glows the five-foot, six-inch southpaw, "I could easily have gone nine."

Casey Stengel, the sail-eared Yankee skipper, was happy, too.

"He still has that major league arm," Casey exulted.

You can't blame Shantz if some of the doubts remain even beneath his new optimism. Because the fates have delighted in tormenting him.

Shantz seemed ticketed for greatness right from the start. The 140-pounder from Pottstown, Pa., led the Western League with 18 victories his first season in organized ball and moved right up to the Athletics. It took him a year to get started, but then, in 1951, he won 18 games for the A's which was equivalent to a 25-game season on one of the contenders. The following season he won 24 against a mere seven losses and then disaster struck.

Bobby was hit on the pitching wrist in a game against Washington and suffered a broken bone. He won the most valuable award and yet the next season his delivery was so altered in an unconscious attempt to guard his wrist that he developed shoulder trouble. He was 5-9 that year, and it was to get worse.

A pulled shoulder tendon virtually washed him out in 1954, in which he pitched only eight innings. In the spring of 1955 he thought of leaving baseball, but stuck and had a poor 5-10 mark. The next year he lost his control, along with everything else, for a 2-7 record.

Then Stengel, who had always been high on the little man, got him in a trade and Bobby repaid that faith with an 11-5 mark in 1957 and the league's lowest earned run average. But last season shoulder trouble struck again and Shantz finished up at seven wins and six losses.

This spring appeared to spell the beginning of the end. He was throwing "nothing" balls and his control was off. But those seven innings against the Reds made a big difference. Only time will tell what happens next to the little man who has been fate's football. But at least now he has fresh encouragement to go on fighting.

Probers Say Reds Using New Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators report that U.S. Communists have been ordered "to wear a new look." The objective: To win friends and influence people.

In the latest report on Communist activities, the House Committee on Un-American Activities said yesterday:

"To a degree unmatched in party history, Communists are now promoting themselves as loyal to the United States, peace-loving and humanitarian in purpose, and anxious to work in harmony with Socialists, liberals, and even capitalists for the good of the nation."

Under the remodeled tactics, the committee said, the Communists' main emphasis now is on a program of direct action to infiltrate legitimate community affairs. By and large, the investigators said, the role of the indirect Communist front organization has been abandoned.

Other changes in tactics, the report said, involve an invigorated campaign to attract youth into the party and to re-establish a welcome for Communists within organized labor.

The committee's 120-page report was released by Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.)

Brown's FEP, Wage Bills Run Into Trouble

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democratic senators pledged an all-out fight today to restore key mediation provisions of fair employment practices legislation to outlaw job discrimination in California.

At the same time, opponents of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's minimum wage bill declared they would renew their battle against the 90-cent-an-hour minimum for farm workers voted by the Assembly yesterday. The general minimum would be $1.25.

Only the governor's tax program was rolling along smoothly at the moment.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee approved Brown's proposals for a three-cent cigarette tax and a boost in income taxes. The bills now go to the Assembly.

The Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee cleared another Brown tax bill. This one would raise the rates on inheritances left to friends and distant relatives.

Controversy over the fair employment legislation only deepened after the Senate Finance Committee approved a rewritten version of the administration measure.

Supporters charged that amendments sponsored by Senate Majority Leader Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) emasculated the bill and were designed to protect employers.

Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez) announced he would attempt to restore the original terms advocated by the governor and Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley), author of the bill.

The measure, as revised, would require a formal complaint to be filed before the fair employment practices commission could move in. Proponents of the civil rights bill protested that this takes the heart out of conciliation and arbitration.

Employer spokesmen, on the other hand, said the restrictions would prevent any "witch hunt." The original provisions would have empowered the commission to investigate alleged discrimcrimination on its own.

Brown fared better in the Assembly's decision to peg the minimum farm wage at 90 cents an hour. The governor sought at least $1, but an Assembly committee removed farm labor from his bill entirely.

Another Assembly vote of 57-16 yesterday defeated a technical maneuver to shelve the minimum wage bill, indicating certain passage by the house next week.

Opponents, chiefly farm organizations, accepted that prospect and indicated they would carry their fight to the rural-minded Senate.

ASCENDING THE ladder to put finishing touches on her scenic design for the comedy "The Velvet Glove" is Mrs. Derald Nevin, as stage manager Mrs. David Turrini asks her opinion about a painting suitable for the convent setting. The comedy which is sponsored by the St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will be presented April 9, 10 and 12 at 8:30 p.m. in St. Raphael's auditorium.

'VOILA!' Mrs. Raymond Cerutti, make-up chairman, views the effectiveness of her artistry on her thespian nun, Sister Monica, played by Mrs. Bette Botzenhardt, while prompter Marion Grady utilizes valuable time cuing Sister in her lines. The play won a Christopher award and was a Broadway success was written by Rosemary Casey.

FOR YOUR intermission pleasure, three members of the production crew give a preview of the candy, coke and coffee concession. Left to right, are Mesdames Leonard Hamilton, publicity chairman; James Costin, wardrobe mistress and Gene O'Connor, ticket chairman.

Mrs. Lloyd L. Morain, president of the San Francisco Planned Parenthood Assn., Inc., will be the featured speaker at a tea to be given by Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin County on Thursday, April 9, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. G. Gordon Brown, 140 Goodhill road, in Kent Woodlands.

Mrs. Morain will report on the International Planned Parenthood Conference, which she attended in India last month, as well as the aims of Planned Parenthood. Mrs. Morain was a delegate to a similar conference in Tokyo in 1954 and previously served on the board of directors of the Boston Planned Parenthood League.

The Marin group recently has elected the following officers: Mesdames Berrien Anderson Jr., chairman; George Lindahl, assistant chairman; James McNab, treasurer; Dohrmann Pischel Jr., recording secretary, and John Barnard, corresponding secretary.

Also serving on the board of directors are Mesdames William A. Pomeroy, Theodore Griffinger Jr. John J. Gardiner Jr., John R. Barnard, and Brown, and Dr. Eugenia Hayes.

Floral Decorator Will Participate In Design School

A new professional honor has come to Larkspur floral decorator Katherine Eubanks, with the announcement this week that she has been selected to take part in the Design School of the 1959 Florists' Annual Convention, which will be held this August in Los Angeles.

The new honor is an unusual one, particularly for a woman, since only six of the nearly 12,000 professional Florists' Telegraph Delivery Assn. members are asked to participate in the Design School. The only other distaff member taking part this year will be Marian Fisher of Syracuse, N. Y., a past national president of FTD.

Currently district representative for the FTDA, Mrs. Eubanks has also served as chairman of the regional FTD unit, which stretches from San Jose to Eureka.

The Larkspur floral decorator has given many demonstrations before women's groups all over the Bay Area, and her list of awards includes twelve blue ribbons from the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Mrs. Eubanks has taught at the Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design in San Francisco and at the Tamalpais High Adult school, and in addition has judged many flower shows in San Francisco and Marin and at the Sonoma and Mendocino fairs.

MAY 16

Star Of Sea Women Plan Fashion Show

The women of the Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito are planning their fifth annual luncheon and fashion show to be held on Saturday, May 16.

Mrs. Joseph DeMartini, co-chairman with Mrs. Amalie Smith, entertained the committee at her home recently to formulate plans for this year's "Maytime Melody" which will again be held at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

Maryon Taylor, Inc. of Ross will provide the styles and accessories for the occasion. Mrs. John Alexander will be the commentator.

Because of the limited number of tables, it is well to make reservations for this always popular affair at an early date, advises Mrs. John Churchill, reservations chairman. Places will be reserved in the order in which the payment for reservations is received.

Other members of the committee working with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. DeMartini are Mrs. Peter Fugina who, with Mrs. Frank Pasquinucci, head the decorations group; Miss Colleen Hogan who is designing attractive posters to publicize the affair, and her sister, Miss Margaret Hogan, who is working with Mrs. Edward Ravizza on press relations.

Assisting group of committee members are Mesdames Walter Silva, David G. Arter, George Hospadar, Gilbert McNicoll, William Strittmatter, Harold Hogarty, Clement McKaig, George Kowski, Leo Quadros and Miss Kathryn Hassett.

Proceeds from this fund raising project go into the building fund of the new Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito, which, barring unforseen delay, will start at the end of April.

Belvedere Nursery Sets July Summer Session

A four-week summer session in July will be held again this year at the Belvedere Nursery School according to an announcement by Mrs. James Knox, president of the board of trustees which approved the special program at its monthly meeting last week.

The session will start July 6 and will coincide with that of the Reed Union School District. Advance registration of new students is being accepted by Mrs. Robert Bastian, executive director. Mrs. Edward Ryall will continue her duties as principal, and other members of the summer staff will be announced later with further details of the program.

Homes Tour Will Demonstrate Transition From 1890's To Now

The homes to be shown on the annual house tour to be presented by St. Stephen's Guild of Belvedere on April 30 have been announced and in keeping with the theme "Seven Decades of Homes in Belvedere" will demonstrate the transition from the 1890s to the most modern type of home on the Belvedere Lagoon.

First stop will be at the mansion and terraced gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Pedley, designed by Willis Polk, famous San Francisco architect, in 1890. Representing the Edwardian period will be the elegant residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simi, which was planned by Albert Farr, another well-known architect. Both of these homes represent the period when Belvedere Island was an exclusive summer resort and the wealthy built their country homes with all the comforts of their town houses.

Next will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Omizzolo which is a pink stucco set in large gardens on the crest of Golden Gate avenue. This represents the transition from old fashioned at the turn of the century to the fourth home to be shown, that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamoree, designed by W. R. Yelland in the Spanish Mediterranean architecture so popular in California after World War I.

The fifth house, which was built by the present owner, Hiram Johnson III, is typical of modern design and engineering and was planned by William Wurster, now dean of the school of architecture of the University of California. At the time it was built, it was such an innovation that petitions were circulated in Belvedere to prevent construction of the "modern monstrosity" which was considered out of place. Circular rooms cantilevered into wooded surroundings and toward the spectacular view and today the "daring design" of the Thirties hardly commands attention. The brown shingle exterior is the only thing in common with earlier homes.

Because the most spectacular change in the Belvedere area in the last two decades has been the transformation of the Lagoon from mud flats to an area of lovely homes with the advantages of swimming and small boating in their back yards, the Guild has selected two waterside homes to complete the tour. The cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hymans with its beautiful gardens including a tea house and a tree house is located on the north end of the Lagoon which was first developed in the Forties.

The 70-year span will be completed with the exotic home and gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gemperle, located on Leward road at the south end of the Lagoon.

The committee for the House Tour, of which Mrs. Harold Fletcher is chairman, met Wednesday at her home to complete plans for the serving of tea at the San Francisco Yacht Club, to organize the fleet of station wagons for transportation and to arrange for hostesses who will wear fashions typical of the period of the homes in which they will be on duty.

Tickets may be secured from Mrs. T. L. Wark of Belvedere and Mrs. George C. Stephens of Tiburon. Others on committee include Mesdames John Hoefer, Robert Bagnall, Robert Tembe, Chaylon Brown, Robert Kirchmann, B. F. Weaver, Charles Berry, Frank King and John Mueller.

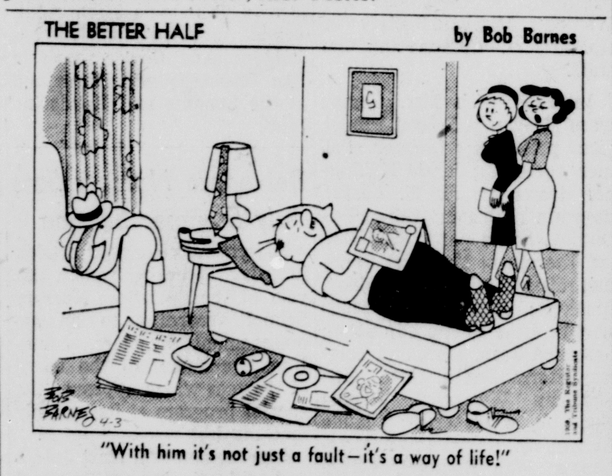
THE BETTER HALF — by Bob Barnes



"With him it's not just a fault—it's a way of life!"

Hygienist Is Speaker At Twin Cities School

Mrs. Marguerite Siemens, dental hygienist at the Larkspur-Corte Madera Elementary School, was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Twin Cities Cooperative Nursery School.

The speaker named four essential factors required for healthy teeth, which are heredity, care, diet and a stable emotional make-up.

Care, besides careful brushing after each meal, includes regular visits to the dentist, starting at two years of age. Due to congenital defects, some children fail to grow one or two of their second teeth and will retain their baby teeth instead the rest of their lives. It is important therefore, to have the dentist take X-rays to detect whether such a condition exists. It is then possible, with good care, to keep the baby teeth in good condition.

Keeping your child stable emotionally is necessary for sound teeth, Mrs. Siemens explained.

Zontas Elect New Officers

New officers and board members of the Marin County Zonta Club were elected at the recent evening meeting held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Nicol in Kentfield.

The new officers are Mesdames C. M. Benites, president; Joseph Riznik, vice president; J. V. Porter, recording secretary; Harry M. Williams, corresponding secretary, and Ray Eubank, treasurer. New board members are Mesdames Beth Burchard, Richard Keating and Americo Oberto.

After a silent auction sale for the purpose of raising scholarship funds, the Zonta members were entertained by their three newest members — Miss Stella Hughes, Mrs. Ruth Mcphail, and Dr. Joan Qualm. The program, "This Is Your Life' was conducted by president Dorothy Erthle.

The Wednesday luncheon meeting of Zonta Club was held at the West End Villa. Mrs. R. E. Mittelstaedt read the collect. The guest speaker, Virginia Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Carter of San Anselmo, and the Girl Scout who is to go to Colorado Springs, Col., June 29, was introduced by the president.

Miss Carter was chosen from among many Marin Senior Girl Scouts to be a part of a special encampment at Colorado Springs. There will be girls from all over the United States and many foreign countries at this camp. The encampment's slogan will be "A Mile High — A World Wide."

For several of the eight-year-olds this was their first train ride. The Sugar 'N' Spicers from Brookside School are Kathy Swagerty, Jackie Green, Patty Strauss, Peggy Sater, Anne Hiaring, Jackie Colton, Arleen Johnson, and Beverly Sisler is from St. Anselm's. Also enjoying the trip were brothers and sisters, Linda and Howie Swagerty and Dana and Ricky Strauss.

The Faxfairs, who meet at the Masonic Temple in Larkspur, are sponsoring "The Matchmaker," presented by the Ross Valley Players at the Marin Art and Garden Center Barn in Ross on Friday night, April 10, at 8:30.

"The Matchmaker," which ran for more than a year on Broadway, is a happy return to the old-time farce type of play.

Tickets for this performance may be had by calling Mrs. Robert A. Smallman of Kentfield, and Mrs. Claude Maehler of Corte Madera.

Mr. and Mrs. David Reed Lawrence of San Rafael will entertain at dinner before the play. A Good Idea

The wise mother makes it a practice to have each child locate his clothing, books, overshoes, and other school paraphernalia in the evening.

Book Drive Is Termed Big Success

When the final count of books was made in the recently completed book drive sponsored by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club and the Belvedere Nursery School, it was discovered there were 350 good books in excellent condition for the Reed school district libraries, 25 story and picture books for the nursery school, 100 books for the Redwood high school library and 50 for the local branch of the library.

In addition hundreds of copies of National Geographic Magazines were received which make possible the completion of several sets of topical bindings for the school's reference shelves.

Surplus books including many paper-back mysteries were donated to the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon from which the Parent-Teacher Club as one of the partner organizations will realize a financial profit.

"The drive was successful beyond our most optimistic hopes and we are very grateful that donors gave such excellent titles in good condition," states Mrs. Ralph Meyers, chairman of the Club's library committee.

Other benefits were the clipping and mounting of hundreds of pictures for classroom use, illustrating study units, which was done by the staffers during lulls in sorting at the collection center on the Belvedere Boardwalk.

Assisting Mrs. Meyers were Mesdames Stanley Dick, George McKegney, Ernest Peterson, Lester Gorsline, Harry Winblad and Robert Bastian.

May Kin Wa Group Has Ceremonial

The May Kin Wa Camp Fire group recently had a ceremonial for the presentation of honor beads they had earned in the past year.

The girls receiving honor beads were Maylien Ardito, Kathy Cosgrove, Susan Fitzgerald, Cheryl Levin, Barbara Manuel, Pat Marshall, Donna Nicolaisen, Christine Pilara, and Kay Wagner.

The group had a crazy hat contest after the ceremony. Each girl had designed a hat representing her hobby.

The girls served refreshments to guests Miss Jean Stover and Mrs. A. B. Iacopi, sponsors, and the mothers of all the girls. The ceremonial was held in the home of Mrs. W. B. Manuel, guardian of the group.

AT RICKEY'S

Spring Report Card To Be Party Theme

Mix the marvelous fashion sense of eight Marin shops; have each select the three spring fashions that best express the look of their store; give them an attractive AAUW model for visual display. The result, a "Spring Report Card" telling the why, what, where, and how much of Marin spring fashion.

This is the special way that Rickey's popular "Fashion Focus" luncheon will celebrate its first birthday on Tuesday.

Fashion "A's" go to Dixson's, Grace Graham, Luana's, Maryon Taylor, Ross Valley Shop, R. and M. Style Shops, Sarrae's and Tiki's for proving that fashion shopping in Marin can save time, temper, money and madness, if you only know where to shop.

An "A" for effort goes to the American Assn. of University Women, Tuesday's honored guests, for its interest in educational betterment and civic improvement; an exceptional program of graduate fellowships available to women students; and for continuing after college days to stimulate the cultural and academic appetite of its members through group sections on legislation, international relations, art, etc.

"Spring Report Card" will prove there are a variety of attractive fashions in the county to suit every Marin mood, every pocketbook and every figure.

It will go name dropping with Jerry Gilden, Rose Marie Reid, David Crystal, Mr. Mort, Lanz, Tabak, Eleanor Green as it shows a representative cross-section of swimwear, casual classics, late-day looks and country gad-abouts.

Parading with a flash card naming their store will be Mrs. Byron Jones, for Dixson's; Mrs. John Hickerson for Grace Graham; Mrs. Russel Spatz for Luana's and Mrs. Paul Sather for Maryon Taylor. Mrs. I. Weyland Bonbright, III, personifies the Ross Valley Shop look, with Mrs. Robert Milmoe for R and M Style Shop. Mrs. W. Remington Hodgson models for Sarrae's and Mrs. Donald Holt is Tiki's exotic import.

Classroom for "Spring Report Card" will be the charming new outdoor lanai at Rickey's which should rate an "A" in the outdoor dining department.

Penthouse Coiffures of Kentfield will report on the long and short and ups and downs of spring hair fashion with eight creative "do's" to answer to hair that "doesn't". Tuesday art directors will be Beauty Counselors Gai Fleming and Frances Gaines and their palettes of coordinated makeup.

Host John Rickey and fashion coordinator Marion Bellamy promise some extra surprises for the Fashion Focus birthday luncheon which marks the beginning of a new year of Tuesday luncheons honoring outstanding Marin organizations and featuring the best in Marin fashion.

The popular series is open to the public, reservations are made by calling Rickey's. Luncheon is at 12:30 o'clock and the fashion show begins at 1 p.m.

Fitted Silhouette

The fitted silhouette is coming back to coats. Empire coats, which have a sure sign of a waistline, though high, have paved the way for the trend, say fashion analysts for Women's Wear Daily, a trade publication. Belts, sashes, drawstrings, and multiple seaming provide the fitted look. The coats have short, rounded skirts or follow sheath lines like dresses worn underneath.

'Fashioneering'

Designer Victor Lebow has coined a new word in men's wear — "fashioneering." It means structural changes in tailoring. These changes include the "hinged sleeve," which eliminates binding and shoulder-pulling, and the "ragbak," a sports jacket with a Raglan back and conventional front. Lapels have an elongated sweep, jackets are shorter and have inverted, pleated side vents and a curved, cut-away look. Sleeves have narrow removable cuffs.

Heavy waxed paper cut to fit the bottom of the pan is a good liner for most baking uses; grease the pan lightly and press the paper smoothly against the pan.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Supervisors, Too, Getting Fed Up With Telephones

It appears the members of the Board of Supervisors are getting fed up with constant interruptions from that fiendish invention, the telephone.

We've complained in this space before about the rudeness of that black instrument whose incessant ringing can halt a hearing, interrupt a presentation and effectively stop operations of county government.

Last Tuesday some of the board began to see our point.

Early in the morning, with only three of the five members present, the phone rang first for one supervisor and then another. There are three phones in the supervisors' chambers. Finally the fourth phone in the ante-room rang. The county administrator went outo to answer it. The call was for the county clerk. Although he has a phone on his own desk, the clerk got up, walked out to the anteroom to answer and all business of the board stopped.

"This is getting ridiculous," said Chairman Walter Castro.

"We wouldn't let somebody walk into the room and interrupt our meeting, why should we let the telephone?" asked Supervisor William Gnoss. "Why don't you write an editorial about it?" he suggested to the Independent-Journal's reporter.

You've got your editorial, Mrs. and Messrs. Supervisors.

How about a policy decision that no telephone calls will be accepted by supervisors during meetings except in an emergency?

Movies Give Oldsters A Break

There are many people who talk about the plight of the oldsters in an inflationary economy, who realize that older people often are caught between a set income and constantly increasing expenses.

Mostly, however, no one does anything about it.

It is gratifying, therefore, to find someone who is helping out.

We refer to the Blumenfeld Theaters. Here in Marin they have just started a new movie ticket classification. Anyone 65 years of age or older is eligible. For a dollar registration fee, each oldster receives a card entitlling him or her to the same admission fee as juniors. In general this admission is 60 cents as compared to the usual 90 cents. Thus an oldster by attending the show four times would more than make his dollar back; every time he attended the show after that, the cost would be a third less than for other adults.

This could well bring this entertainment into the range of many who formerly could not attend.

We congratulate the Blumenfelds and their staff on the innovation.

THE SECURITY THAT LASTS

An insurance advertisement recently listed the following among the "many perils" that endanger the security of your home possessions and savings:

"Fire . . . windstorm . . . explosion . . . burglary and robbery . . . personal injury . . . property damage . . . lightning . . . aircraft damage . . . damage by fall of trees . . . riot and strike damage . . . malicious mischief . . . vandalism . . . collapse of dwelling . . . water damage from plumbing or heating system and many others."

A momentary reflection on such threats and hazards is a forceful reminder that material possessions do not bring the enduring security for which the human spirit yearns.

Show a reasonable concern in protecting the physical necessities and comforts of life. But, take care at the same time, not to make them the "be all" and "end all" of your existence.

Because you are a being made in God's image, nothing short of Him will ever satisfy you. Ponder from time to time this profound, sensible advice of the Master:

"Lay up to yourselves treasures in heaven; where neither the rust nor moth doth consume, and where thieves do not break through, nor steal." (Matthew 6:20)

Keep my sights set on the treasures that last forever, O Lord.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Ships, Men Of Eight Nations Combine Into NATO's Task Force

NEW YORK (AP) — The gray wastes of the Atlantic today cloak a silent, never-ending struggle for leadership in naval power.

Adm. Jerauld (Jerry) Wright, top sea dog for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has a new worry — reports that the Soviet Union is developing a submarine that can launch a guided missile with an atomic warhead.

"They can convert a number of their existing submarines to that purpose," he said grimly. "The defense of North America from the threat of attack by guided-missile submarines is occupying a good deal of our attention."

This and a multitude of other problems in the day-to-day race for supremacy at sea are under constant study by 140 NATO officers at Wright's headquarters at Norfolk, Va. He is proud of the fact it is the first and only Allied military headquarters ever established on U.S. soil.

The tall, sparely built 60-year-old admiral wears two hats.

As American naval commander in the Atlantic, he guards the eastern approaches to North and South American continents from the North Pole to the South Pole.

AS NATO's Atlantic commander, his ships and men from eight Allied nations patrol millions of square miles between the West Indies and the North Pole, all the vital sea lines that link Europe and North America.

"It isn't an easy thing to bring naval forces of different nations into a coordinated task force," he said, "but we feel we have done it. They get along well, and they work together as a team."

"THREE-FOURTHS of Russia's 450 submarines are concentrated in European waters," he pointed out. "There they are in position to try to sever Europe from America and extend the Iron Curtain to the very shoreline of the United States and Canada."

"That is their goal. Our task is to prevent them."

Wright, son of an Army lieutenant general, at 19 was one of the youngest men ever to be graduated from the Naval Academy. He served as naval aide to Presidents Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, played a hero's role in a number of daring naval combat missions during World War II.

I read your advice to Reader Griffith concerning ham operators, and I hope he has better luck in eliminating this problem than we have had.

I have lived on the same block with a ham operator for five years. I know his name, call letters, and he has been reported to the FCC, but his voice still comes through my TV set off and on on every channel.

Student Conduct Wins High Praise

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently it was my privilege to go to Sacramento with the eighth grade students of Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera. We went up by bus, visited the Assembly while it was in session, toured various offices, visited Fort Sutter, met Senator McCarthy (who answered the students' questions in a most interesting manner); in general, took the "tour" that each eighth grade class takes in conjunction with their Civic class studies.

What makes this noteworthy to me is the wonderful way in which these children behaved. Believe me, I really enjoyed the various places of interest, but I wouldn't have if those boys and girls hadn't conducted themselves as well as they did. It isn't easy to be quiet while walking up and down stairs and hallways, but they tried to be quiet. They weren't "litterbugs" with their lunch sacks, they were polite to each other, their teachers (and to me). What more can I say? — except that I'm happy to have been allowed to go with them.

Time Is Now To Protect Sandspit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As the battle over its water front gets hot, Sausalito, is at a crucial point in its history.

In the short view, the fight is over the future of the sand spit (or Shell Beach): Shall it be a public park or a restaurant with an acre or so of asphalt parking lot?

In the long view, it is over the whole of its marina: Shall commercial development cut the citizens off from access to the water except by a route through somebody's gas station?

As usual, the issue breaks down into one between the new order and the old. But here is the paradox. The "new" order — the younger residents, perhaps with small children — favor the conservative thing, a park, while the "old" order seems willing to sacrifice the sandspit — the last desirable beach-access property — just for the sake of money; who knows, maybe they stand to profit.

Profit is not bad, and nobody proposes the city's taking over the sandspit at anything less than a fair price. But to do this, the City Council must hear before its April 7 meeting a public demand to save it for recreational use.

At this time, the "old" order — including proponents of the proposed McAteer restaurant—keeps bleating about what "should have been done 30 years ago," that "the newcomers to Sausalito" are interlopers, that "the sandspit has lain fallow for so long" it's time somebody did something there.

What "should have been done" is not the point: The opportunity to look ahead for the welfare of the citizens is now; the time to save the sandspit for a park is now, if citizens will write the council one line on a postcard urging this action.

Senator McAteer seems to take it as an affront that Sausalito doesn't welcome his restaurant, modestly described as luxurious. Again, this is not the point. I am sure that the reputation of his architects would protect us from a monstrosity like a Howard Johnson's in the style of Ice Cream Colonial, or from any other "sore-eye," to borrow a word from that emininet dialectician, Councilman Keeney.

But neither a luxurious restaurant for rich tourists nor the promised tax revenues can compensate Sausalito's present or future residents for the park-that-might-have-been.

Election Sought On Civic Center

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the interest of accurate reporting, I would like to correct a misimpression which appeared in your March 25 write-up of the supervisors' meeting.

Our organization is not opposed to the Civic Center if a majority of the Marin County voters indicate by free election that they want it and the increased taxes necessary for its creation and maintenance. Our organization is for having this project and the necessary increased taxes placed before the voters so that each may express his own opinion.

Incidentally, many of your readers including myself are interested in knowing how you stand on this issue. Are you for or against bringing this out in the open so that the voters may express themselves?

Right To Vote Is U.S. Privilege

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The right to vote is a privilege reserved to the American People by the founders of our country. The Constitution of the United States, based on principles of government of the people, by the people and for the people, preserves this important heritage inherent to a democratic way of life.

The controversial Civic Center project raises a question as to the extent that Government of the people, by the people and for the people may be usurped by social planners.

If elected officials in Marine (cq) County stand for Democratic government the placing of the Civic Center Project before the voters will be concrete evidence of their Democratic principles.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Dorothy Sims tells this story with a moral worth remembering. There once was a lady named Mabel Jullup who had taste. She bought a lovely vase at an auction and put it on her table. It was Ming, and very elegant, but it made the rest of her furniture look tacky. So she sold the rest of the furniture, and had an expensive interior decorator re-do her entire apartment. That made Mr. Jullup look cheap. So she got a divorce from Mr. Jullup, and married a Mr. Preston Potter, of the Social Register.

But here's the sad ending to the story. Mr. Preston Potter made HER look cheap!

"What are you reading?" a mother demanded of her 7-year-old. "A story about a cow jumping over the moon," was the answer. "Throw that book away at once," commanded the mother. "How often have I told you you're too young to read science fiction?"

It's Hard To Judge Juvenile Cases Because Facts Aren't Available

It was a hectic weekend for the county sheriff's men. They had the unexpected duty of rounding up 15 escapees from the juvenile hall at Lucas Valley.

From their headquarters in the basement of the county courthouse came some uncomplimentary mutters about "psychology" used in dealing with youthful law-breakers.

The curious thing about treatment of juveniles is that outside of police, district attorneys, probation officers and judges, very few people know what is going on.

Maybe they are treated too softly, as seems to be the prevalent opinion in the sheriff's office, or perhaps too harshly. It is difficult to determine.

ANYONE UNDER 18 arrested on a criminal charge more or less disappears from view. Because he is a juvenile his case is considered a civil case not a criminal case. His case is decided in chambers by a judge of Marin Superior Court.

This newspaper follows the policy pretty consistently of not printing names of anyone under 18 who is arrested. The usual identification in a news story is something like "a 16-year-old San Rafael youth."

This policy makes it next to impossible to follow the disposition of a juvenile's case since the reporter who wrote the arrest story is not too often the reporter who follows the court cases.

Besides this, most probation reports are treated as a confidential matter.

THE END RESULT of all this is that the public gets a clear picture of how many juveniles are arrested and for what, but has no conception of what sort of judgment is meted out to them or the mitigating details of their cases. What the public reads is what the reporter gets off the police report. The police report we assume is honest, but it will most likely make a strong case for the police action taken — the arrest of the juvenile.

Newspapers operate on the theory that exposure to the light has a purifying effect. But even newspaper editors have hesitated to publicly announce the names of law-breakers under 18 on the theory that the public branding of the youth will do more harm than good. The same theory operates in the probation and court handling of the juvenile's case.

UNUSUAL FEATURE of the juvenile hall break was that when the 17-year-old "ringleader" was captured on Tuesday afternoon his side of the story got a full coverage — he wasn't simply spirited off to juvenile hall after booking at the county jail.

"I am ashamed of what I did," the youth said.

Then he gave a frank account of how he couldn't "chicken out" once the escape was planned.

It created a totally different impression from the earlier description of a foul-mouthed young tough threatening a juvenile hall supervisor with an iron bar.

STATE OF BANKRUPTCY

Michigan Is Broke, Williams Is Blamed

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For Michigan's six-times Gov. G. Mennen Williams this could be the end of the road.

Williams' State of Michigan is coming to be known as the State of Bankruptcy. That is bad for a politician who has had his eye on the White House.

The State of Michigan is broke. For two and one half months the newspapers and news magazines have been telling their readers about that. It is bad advertising, so bad that it could and probably will be deadly to Williams' political ambitions. Deadly, at least, to his political ambitions outside the state.

STORIES OF the financial catastrophe which is overtaking Michigan never fail to identify Williams with the bad news. Much less emphasis is put on the fact that the Legislature of Michigan is Republican-controlled and, further, that the immediate problem in Michigan adds up to a governor-legislature dispute on how to solve it.

Governor and Legislature pulling together toward a common objective doubtless could find quickly a temporary solution to Michigan's difficulties. The Republican Legislature wants to raise Michigan's sales tax by one per cent.

A FRIENDLY on-the-scene reporter calls that proposal the one big solution offered by the Republican legislative leaders. This reporter adds:

"To Williams, a self-labeled New-Dealer, and to his big supporters in Walter P. Reuther's United Auto Workers Union, a boost in the sales tax is just about as tasty as a dose of castor oil."

Editorial comment has been severe on Williams; for example, this on how Michigan got into the mess:

"The state spent more than it took in, and kept on spending more and more. In 10 years it almost has doubled its spending."

WILLIAMS' FRIENDS insist that Republican state legislators consistently have gone along with the six-term spending programs. The Republicans argue that things would be much worse if they had not cut the governor's spending programs all along the line.

However that may be, Michigan comes up now multi-millions of dollars short in payments for public schooling, for old age and children's aid. The state is facing a $110 million deficit by July 1. Big business—the auto companies—paid $35 million recently in advance taxes. That has been swallowed up in the financial crisis.

THE BIG POLITICAL fact in all of this is that, fair or not, the shame of it is rubbing off on Soapy Williams and already must have removed him from the national political stage.

The big political question is whether all of this will rub off, too, on Reuther who commands the union manpower and union funds which put Williams in office and kept him there.

That is a very interesting and important question.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Penalties Are Severe For Fraudulent Return

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

When you sign your tax return, you state: "I declare under the penalties of perjury that this return (including any accompanying schedules and statements) has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is a true, correct, and complete return."

Peter J. Wikel

The law prescribes and the courts may assess severe penalties for:

1. Willful making and subscribing a false return; up to $5,000 fine or three years imprisonment, or both.

2. Willful attempt in any manner to evade or defeat tax; $10,000 fine or five years imprisonment, or both.

3. Willful failure to pay tax or file the proper returns; $10,000 fine or one year imprisonment, or both.

The Treasury has authority to assess for:

1. Unpaid tax or deficiency, 6 per cent per year from the due date of any such tax or deficiency.

2. Negligence without any intent to defraud, 5 per cent of the total deficiency.

3. Failure to file return on time, 5 per cent to 25 per cent of the tax due.

4. Fraud with intent to evade tax, 50 per cent of the total deficiency.

5. Attempt to depart from the United States without paying all taxes or to conceal property, 25 per cent of the tax or deficiency plus 6 per cent interest.

There is no reason for you to pay more taxes than the law prescribes or to be timid in taking every deduction permitted by law.

Your tax return should contain a full and clear explanation of every item entered thereof; and you should retain in your possession for at least six years all pertinent papers, bills, checks, receipts, etc., in connection with your return.

Uncle Sam has many sources of information concerning your income besides your tax return. In addition, your return is audited by a trained staff of expert accountants who probably have had experience with every conceivable method of avoiding or evading taxes.

The Treasury has added a large number of employees to its staff and each return is due for a more thorough going-over than in past years. These people are well trained and know their business, but they are not mind readers.

Be sure to fully explain every detail of your tax return on the return or on an attached statement so that Uncle Sam will understand exactly what you are doing.

3,000 Marin Kids To Have Teeth Checked

Twenty-five Marin County schools, including two parochial schools and five high schools, will be visited next week by dental survey teams making a sampling survey of some 3,000 pupils from kindergarten through high school.

Purpose of the survey is to learn the dental needs of Marin County youngsters as a basis for planning a better dental health program in the schools and in the community.

Undertaken at the request of the county health department, the survey is being carried out jointly by the Marin County Dental Assn., county schools department, county health department, Parent-Teacher Assn. and parent clubs, under direction of the state Department of Public Health. Local dentists will volunteer their time to examine the children's teeth. The dentists will be assisted by the school nurses and by teams of parent volunteers who will record the findings, sterilize the instruments used, and keep an orderly progression of pupils filing in for the dentist's attention.

Dr. Edward Ludwig, regional consultant in public health dentistry, state Department of Health, is providing the technical direction for the survey.

Schedule for the visits follows:

Monday morning — Fairfax Central, Bel Aire, Sleepy Hollow and Marion Schools and Marin Catholic High School.

Tuesday morning — Santa Margarita, Neil Cummins, Isabel Cook, Marin City and Loma Verde Schools and Marin Catholic High School.

Wednesday morning — Reed, Ross and St. Raphael's Schools; Sir Francis Drake and Redwood High Schools.

Thursday morning — Homestead and Richardson Bay Schools; Drake, Tamalpais and Novato High Schools.

Friday morning — Edna Maguire, Kent, Pacheco, St. Rita's and Silveira Schools.

If there are any people on the Moon or Mars they must be getting nervous with all the shots that are taken at them. But the space kick is opening new profit possibilities. For example, the French Academy of Sciences is offering 100,000 francs to anyone who communicates with a heavenly body. To avoid confusion . . . that means any planet except Mars. It appears Mars doesn't count because "it seems sufficiently known." (We were surprised, too.) All you have to do is send some sort of message out of this world and get a reply in return. This does not include an echo in the Swiss Alps. It's a challenge that should stir any citizen who has tried to put in a rush-hour long distance telephone call. Anyway, keep your eyes on the skies, and your ears open.

An Oregon farmer thought a radio in the barn might make his cows more contented . . . but the sound threw the bossys into a panic. Guess they prefer their corn on the cob. Most people prefer a new car they can be proud to own . . . with beautiful modern styling, ease of driving and parking, riding comfort, safety construction, mechanical dependability, unusual economy of operation and extra trade-in value. UNDERWATER CHECKERS — Two Navy frogmen play checkers to while away the time at bottom of a pool at Norfolk, Va., in which they and two others have set a new underwater endurance record. (AP Wirephoto)

4 Navy Frogmen Set Underwater Record

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Four Navy frogmen today bettered the 41-hour record for underwater endurance and hoped to remain submerged for 48 hours.

The four broke the old record at 5:07 a.m. in the indoor, heated swimming pool they had entered Wednesday at 12:06 p.m.

Lt. Arthur L. Rehme, a Navy physician serving as medical supervisor, said they seem to be doing fine, though they are "getting a little tired, I think. They'll be glad to get out of the water."

Rehme said that when the men emerge from the pool they will be given extensive physical examinations and will be interviewed by a psychologist.

The previous underwater record was established by John Garay in August, 1958.

To combat boredom during their long stay underwater the four frogmen have played checkers, read plastic-coated magazines and put on hydrophones to listen to radio broadcasts.

20 Hubcaps Found

About 20 hubcaps were found dumped alongside North San Pedro road yesterday morning, Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Mythaler reported. A passing motorist noticed the hubcaps.

BOYS CLAIM RECORD FOR PRAM-PUSHING

CHELMSFORD, England (UPI)—A team of 70 boys from the Chelmsford Grammar School cracked the world record for pram-pushing yesterday and were still going strong today.

The boys, pushing the baby carriage non-stop in a circular path around the school grounds, claimed a new record when they reached the 190-hour mark. The old record was held by Manchester University.

Group To Learn About Birds, Bees

A color film depicting the life cycles of bees and another on the "Birds of Marin" will be shown to the public tonight at 8 o'clock at the regular meeting of the Marin Audubon Society in Room 40, College of Marin, Kentfield.

A "no-host" dinner at Muriel's Restaurant in Larkspur will precede the monthly meeting.

The society also is planning a field trip to Alum Rock Park near San Jose beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow, where study will be made of resident land and water birds, migrants and birds uncommon to Marin County.

Smoking's Still A Man's Habit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Smoking still is a lot more popular habit among men than it is among women, the world over.

A study by a special House tobacco subcommittee shows that 7 out of 10 U. S. males smoke. Only a little over 3 out of 10 American women do.

The situation is similar, the study says, in Britain, Canada, Sweden and Denmark—except that some Danish women favor cigars and cigarillos to cigarettes.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. John C. Watts, (D-Ky.) made the study to determine what can be done to boost declining U. S. tobacco sales abroad.

It discovered that people are puffing away at a record rate. But the smoking patterns vary.

The British, for example, are among the world's most loyal smokers. Their consumption continues to rise despite heavy taxes and a cigarette price averaging 50 cents a pack.

Why do people smoke, anyway?

"A surprising number of reasons are psychological," the study says, "associated with the stress, tensions and social demands of the modern world."

Miller Enters Bill For Ely Stamp

A campaign for issuance of of a special postage stamp commemorating the first landing of an airplane on a ship is gathering momentum, thanks to a San Rafael woman and Rep. Clement W. Miller.

Miller has introduced a bill authorizing a stamp depicting the landing of Eugene B. Ely's fragile biplane on the cruiser Pennsylvania in San Francisco Bay in January, 1911. It would be issued in 1961, the 50th anniversary of the feat.

The stamp has been a project of Ely's widow, Mrs. Mabel Hall Ely Pierce of San Rafael, for five years. She interested Miller in it soon after his election last November.

His talk will be open to the public, following a business meeting and luncheon, according to Mrs. Martin Collor, League president.

You Can't Risk Non-Punishment, But Over-Punishment Loses Force

How should you punish your children? What is a good penalty? What is a bad one? Punishment is complicated. A few children almost never need punishing. Usually they're the only child in a family. They're sensitive. They catch on fast. They try hard. If you've such a youngster, you're lucky. Most kids aren't that good.

The others sometimes deliberately do things they know are wrong. They take things from a store, for example. They start a fire. They tell a dangerous lie. If you don't punish them they may draw the wrong conclusion. They may keep it up. You can't risk that.

Choose punishments which seem to come as a natural consequence of the misdeeds. Your boy may take some money which doesn't belong to him and spend it. You have him tell the person he took it from. You set up a plan for him to earn the money to replace it. Or you make him do without his allowance for a time. Such penalties seem logical, don't they? Chances are your boy would accept them. He'd learn his lesson.

Always use the mildest punishment that will do the trick. Help your child see the point. If he thinks his punishment is unfair he won't learn what you want to teach him. Spank sparingly. Use the whip rarely. Both are easily overdone. If you save corporal punishment for the few worst offenses, it is effective. If you use it frequently, it is useless.

Children are different. What works with one won't work with another. They change rapidly. You have to change with them. Above all make sure they understand you still love 'em. Even when they're bad they need to know you're on their side.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Our boy is 9 months old. He pulls himself all around the house. I can't make him keep his hands off the TV and the phone. Why can't he learn?"

Mrs. N. O.

(A) He'll learn, eventually. Be patient. Stay near him whenever he's roaming. He is impelled to explore. Punishment doesn't help much at 9 months.

Redwood High Concet Set For Tonight

Soloists will include Virginia Carroll and Robert Quinlan, voice; Janet Christianson, Roxanna Reid, Joan Bamberger, Martha Morse, Pat Hurtado, instruments. Student directors are Roxanna Reid, orchestra, and Dan Smith, band.

Chiropractor Gives Free Care For Retarded Children

Dr. Robert W. Pearce, San Rafael chiropractor, announced today he will open his office at 1628 Fifth avenue every Wednesday afternoon for free care to mentally and physically retarded children who can be helped by chiropractics.

Dr. Pearce said research has shown that many children are so handicapped because of spinal cord pressure. In many retarded children, vertebrae become misplaced during childbirth or early infancy. These misplacements can be corrected in most instances, he said.

Several chiropractors agreed to offer the free service as the result of discussions of the situation at a recent meeting of the Northern California Specific Chiropractors in Palo Alto, he reported.

Spring Squalls Lash Missouri, Florida Areas

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Spring squalls churned up tornadic winds over Florida and Missouri, smashing property and sinking a 60-foot tug off Palm Beach.

High winds and twisters which raked the Florida peninsula yesterday killed at least three persons. Two others were missing. Another 30 persons were injured and damage in three mid-Florida cities was estimated at $1,500,000.

Among the victims was a crewman aboard a tug which capsized in the Atlantic in heavy seas whipped by 80 m.p.h. winds.

The Weather Bureau reported two small tornadoes touched down last night in the Missouri towns of California and Otterville, causing property damage but no injuries.

Heavy rains swept the Midwest during the night. Flood-besieged Rockford, Ill., where about 1,700 persons have been driven from their homes, was doused by a .57-inch downpour.

Fog halted passenger flights in New York for a time yesterday and delayed the liners America and Queen Elizabeth.

Rain mixed with snow was expected today in the northern Great Lakes and in Wyoming and Colorado.

KTIM Disc Jockey Gave Up Acting Career For Radio

Listeners to Marin's radio station KTIM have become accustomed to hearing the voice of 27-year-old disc jockey Wayne Thomas, who has been spinning records over the air waves at the station for seven years.

His duties there, which have made him well known throughout Marin, were taken up after a start in dramatics. He is a graduate of the Pasadena Playhouse.

"I gave up acting for radio announcing," he confides, "because of an unfortunate habit —I need three meals a day."

A bachelor, Thomas is a resident of San Francisco and a native of Oakland. His hobbies include cooking and performing magic tricks.

Sausalito Building Totals $87,805

Building permits issued by Sausalito Building Inspector William Hynes during March totaled $87,805, he reported today. This showed a slight drop from March of a year ago, when permits for $106,500 of building were issued.

He'll live abroad

Novato Youth Selected To Live Abroad

Richard Morse, 16-year-old Novato High School junior, has been selected as Novato's representative in the American Field Service summer student exchange program.

Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Morse of 1525 Buchanan street, will spend next summer abroad living with a family in whatever foreign country he is assigned.

He was selected from a group of five high school students as Novato's representative.

Robert Mautner, chairman of the Novato committee of the American Field Service, indicated there is a good possibility Novato may be allowed to send a second student abroad under the exchange program this year.

Announcement of Morse's selection was made by William Luft, Novato High School teacher and faculty representative on the AFS committee.

The organization's next benefit has been set for May 6 at the high school gymnasium. Color slides taken in Saudi Arabia by William Q. Wright Jr., former county supervisor, will be shown.

Sellmer Divorce Decision Made

Former Sheriff Walter Sellmer, 67, must pay his wife $3,000 in cash and $100 a month alimony for two years, a divorce decision handed down yesterday in Marin Superior Court decreed.

Mrs. Semiana Sellmer, 48, also gets the family home at 44 Miraflores avenue in San Rafael and a 1950 car. She told Judge N. Charles Brusatori that Sellmer moved out of the San Rafael home four years ago and went to Drake's Beach. Thereafter, he came home once a week, only to wash his clothes, she testified.

They were married in Las Vegas in September, 1942, and separated October, 1957.

CONCERT SERIES

Music Chest Drive Starts On Monday

More than 1,500 women on Monday will open the annual summer concert series subscription drive of the Marin Music Chest.

Chairman of the drive is Mrs. George Metcalfe, who headed successful campaigns of the Music Chest last year and in 1957. The concert season starts in June in Forest Meadows of Dominican College, San Rafael.

Aside from presenting the "greatest artists of concert, opera, leading ballets and symphony orchestras" for 25 years, the Music Chest also awards scholarships to outstanding young Marin musicians. Five per cent of the money subscribed is set aside for scholarships and the balance used for artists' fees. To date, more than $14,000 has been awarded in Music Chest scholarships.
